ROCKET '67

MOST REV. ALBERT L. FLETCHER, D.D.—BISHOP OF LITTLE ROCK

Our appreciation to Bishop Fletcher springs from our never ending awareness that all that Catholic High is and will become has depended on and will continue to depend on his interest and guiding hand. We pledge him our loyalty.

DEDICATION

VERY REV. MONSIGNOR WILLIAM E. GALVIN

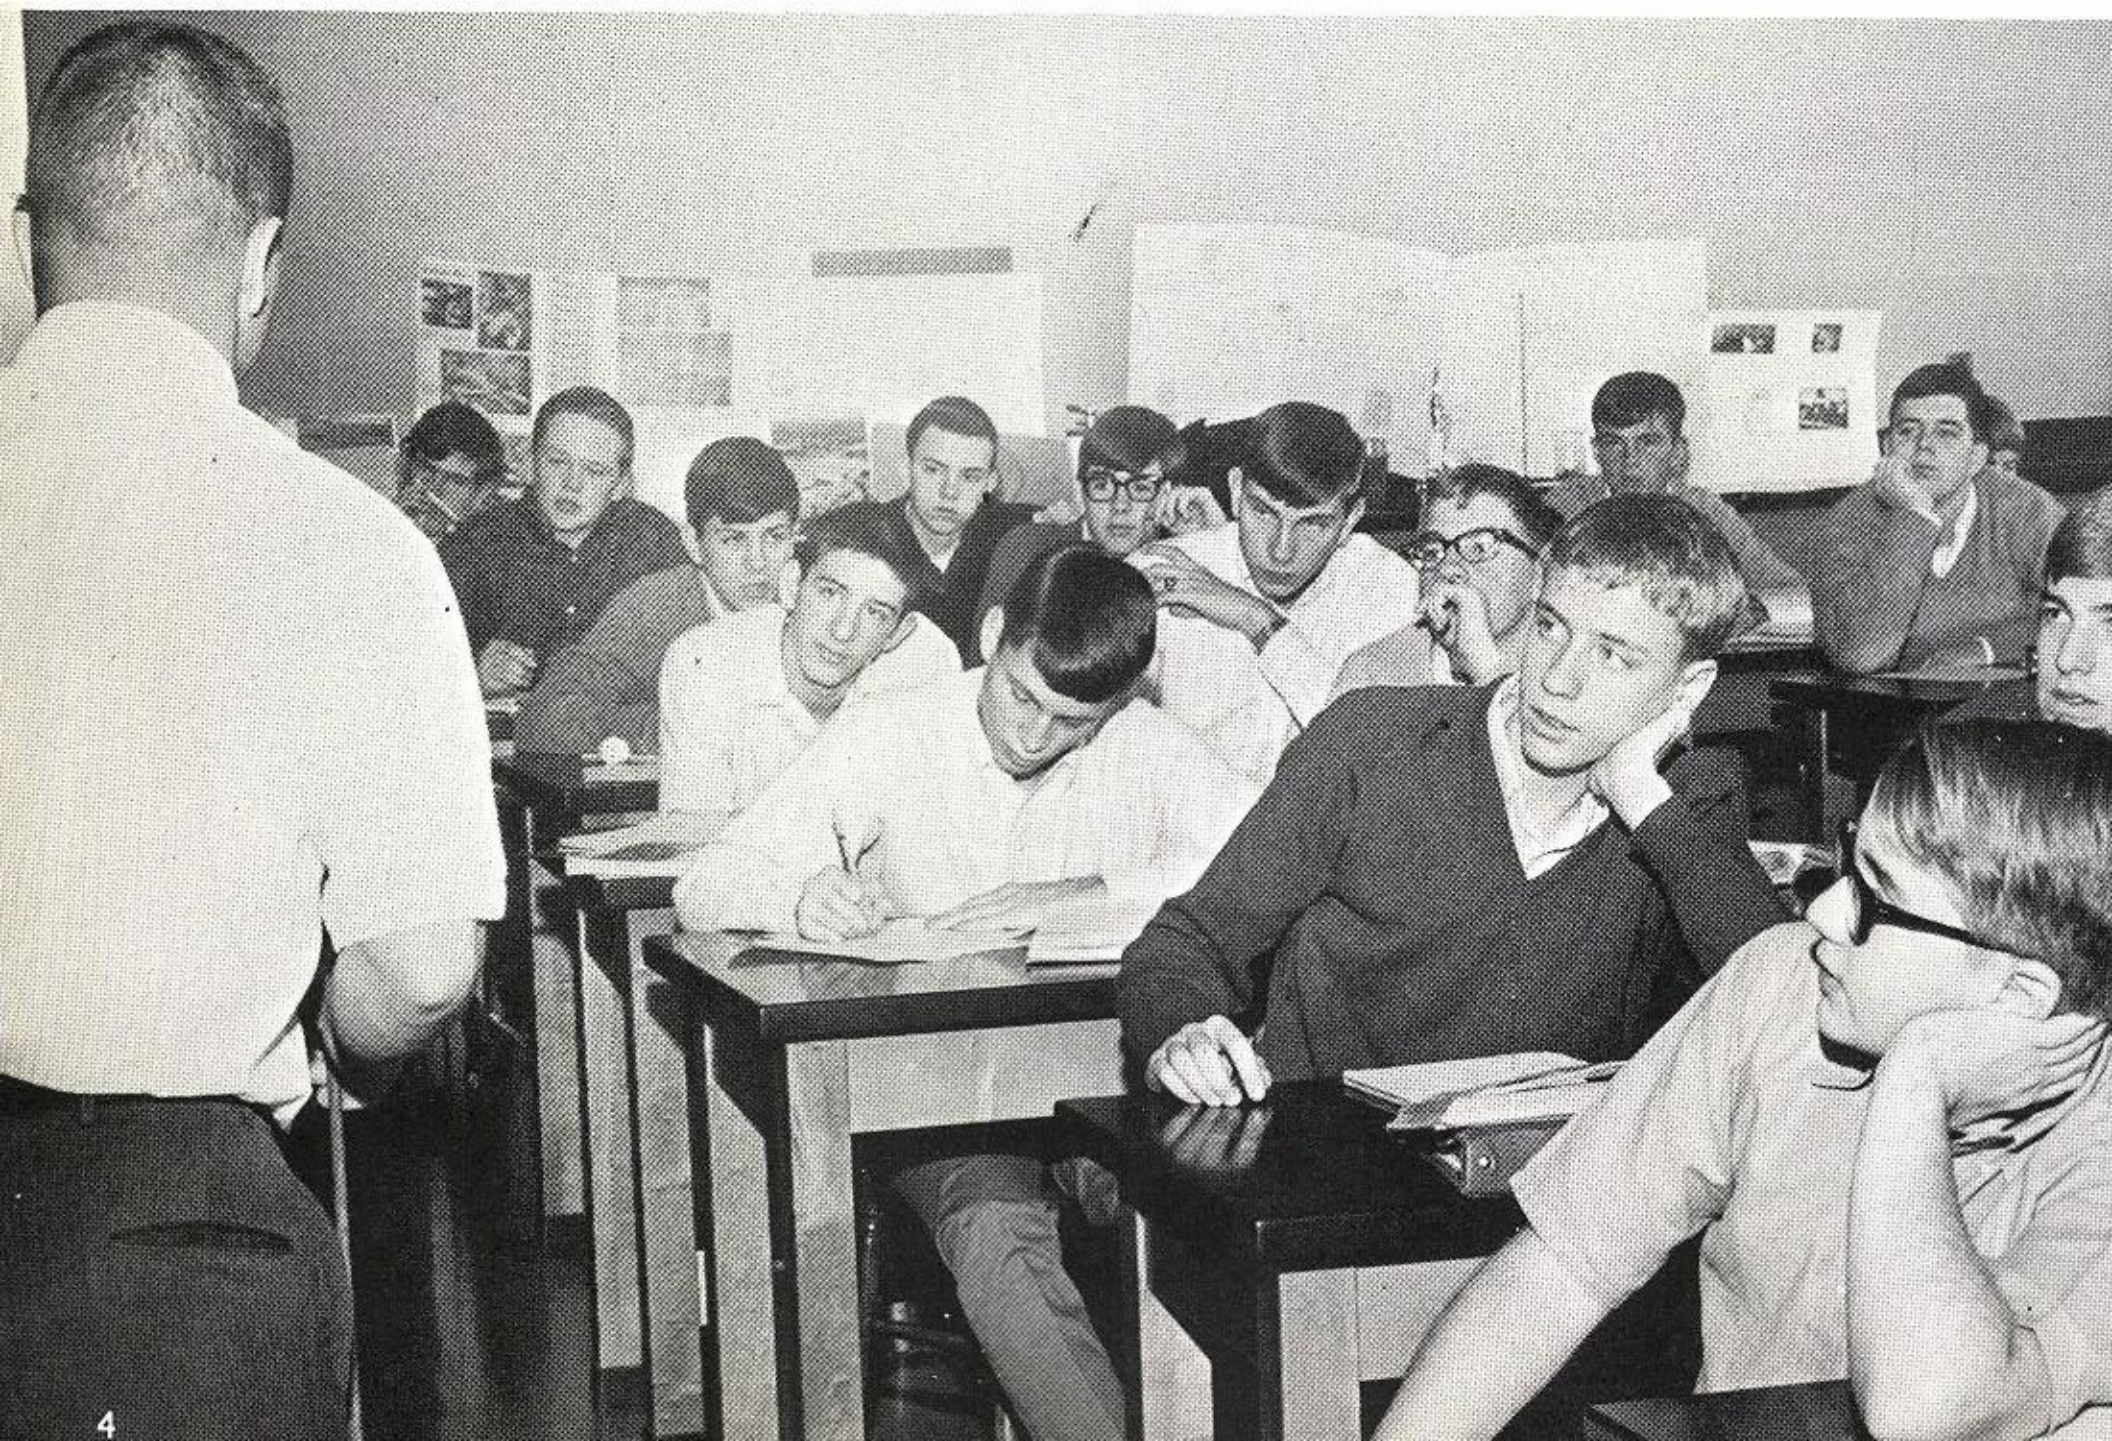

"Any great institution is the lengthened shadow of one man" . . . to no one do these words apply more aptly than to Monsignor Galvin who, after two decades of unselfish service to Catholic High as teacher, builder, and rector, was appointed pastor of Immaculate Conception Church in Fort Smith last November. Because both the building itself and the spirit which gives it life are the works of his hands and heart, we gratefully dedicate this yearbook to him.

Faculty and Class of 1967

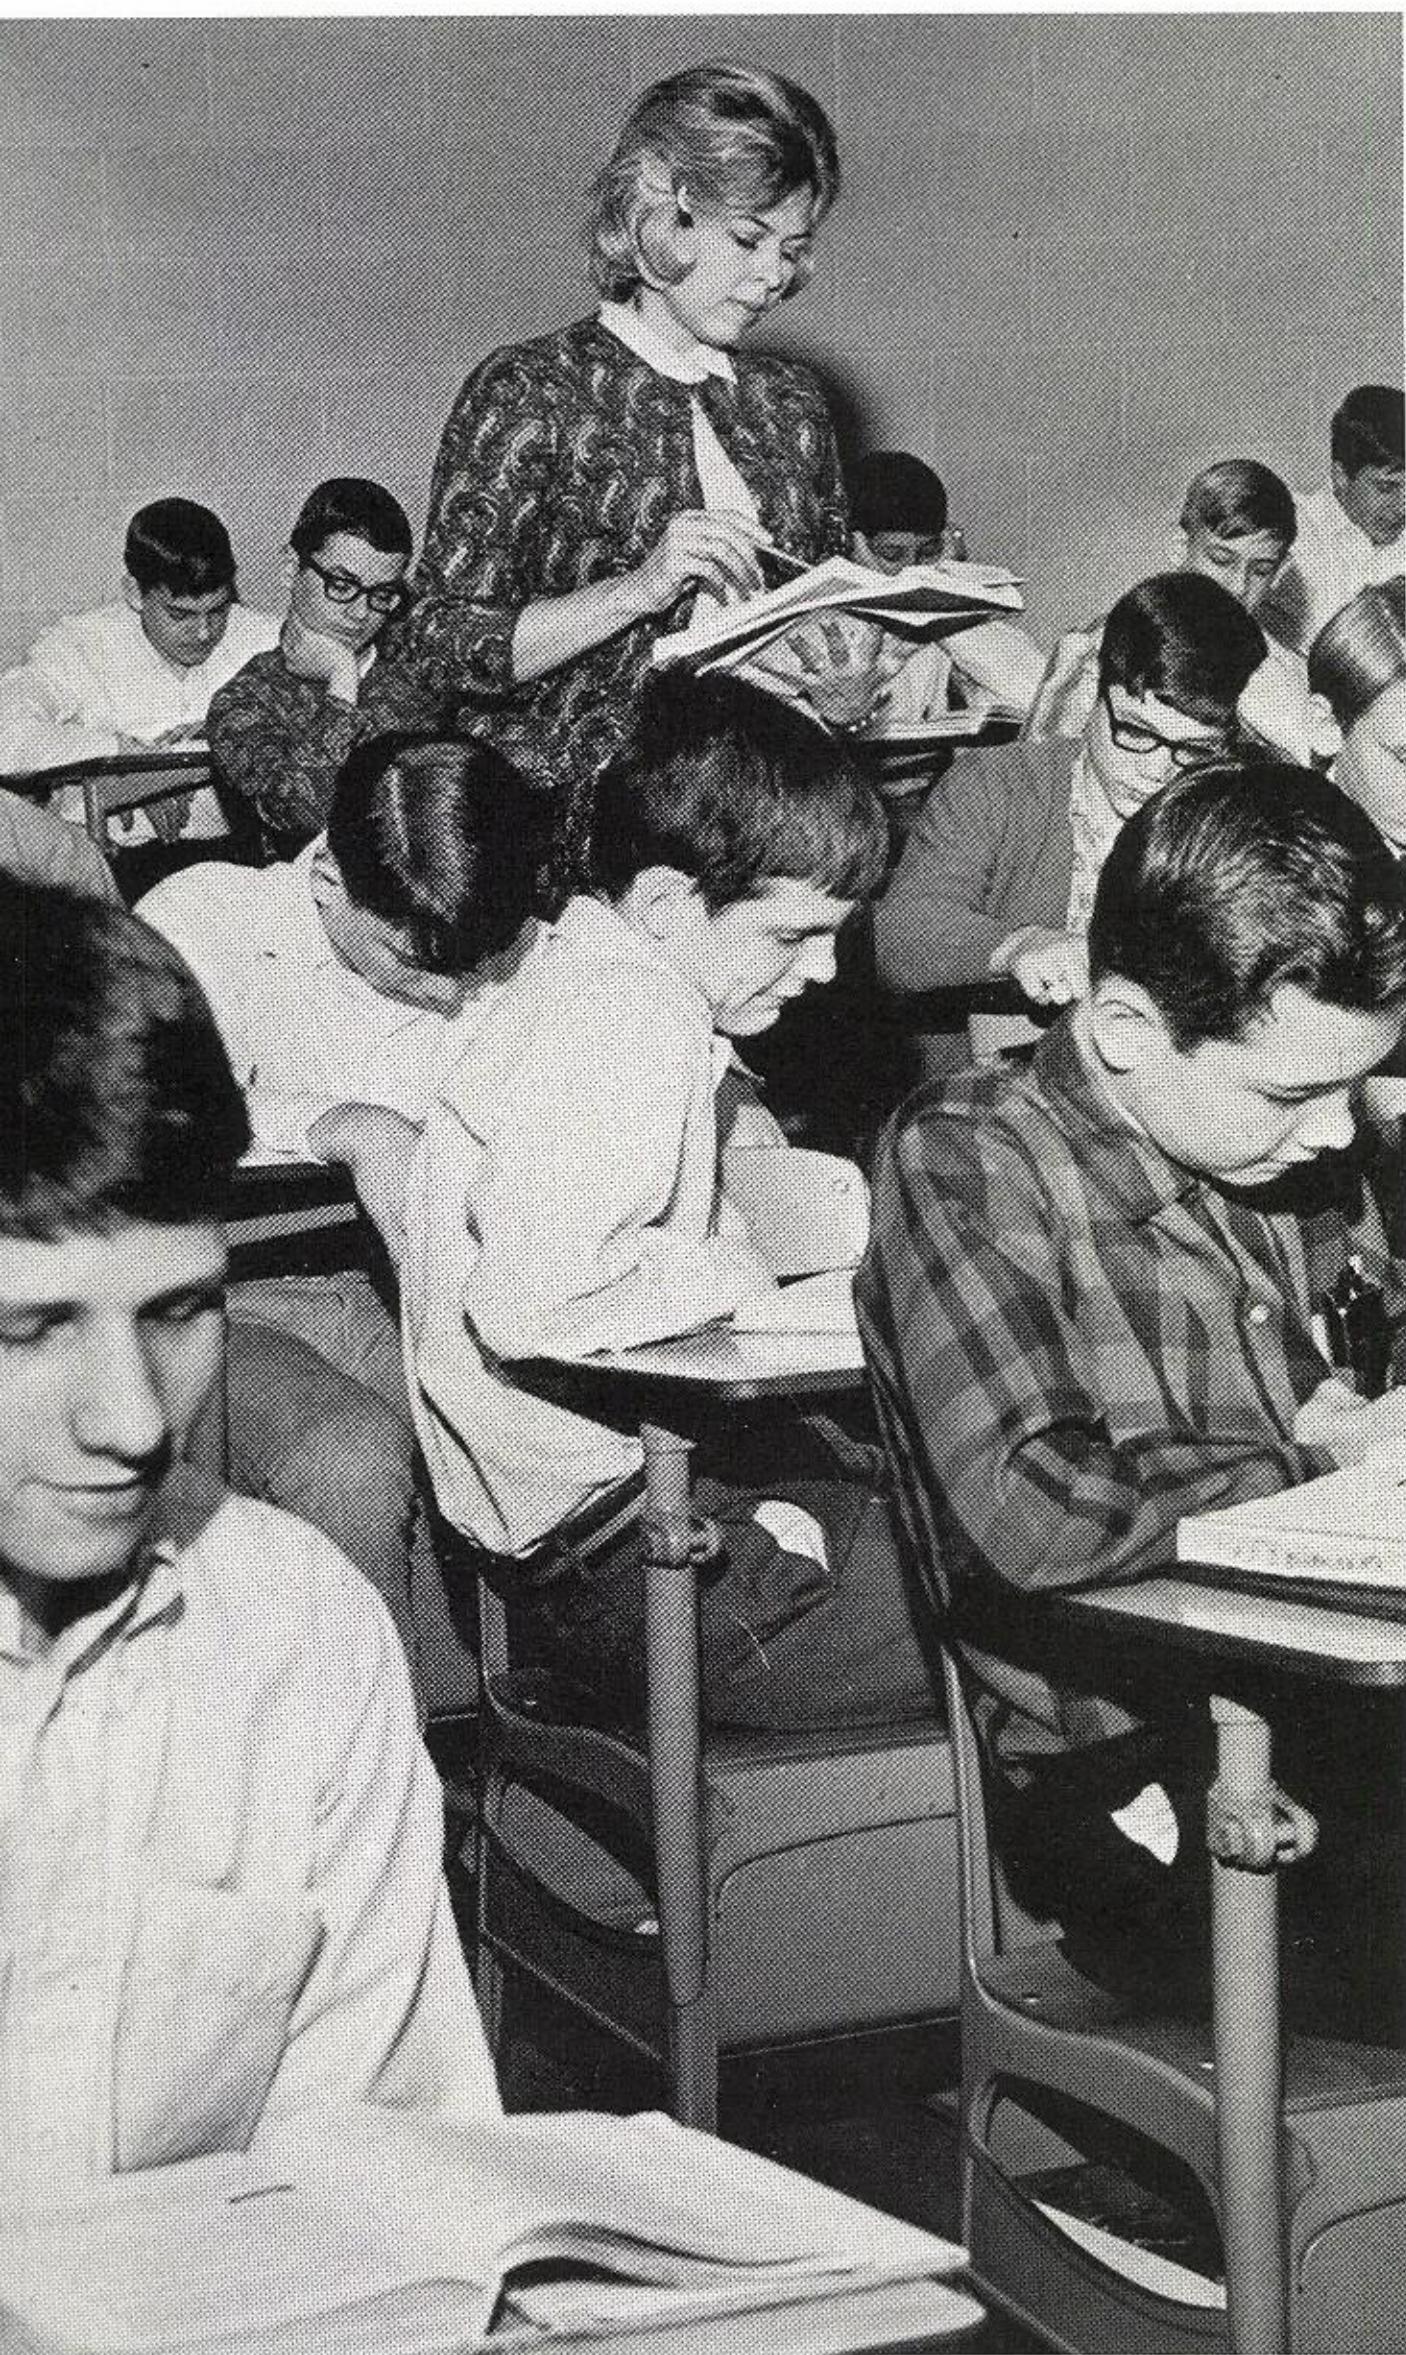

Catholic High . . . Where Knowledge

Father Richard Oswald, teacher of Chemistry and Geometry, shows his class one of the many modern films available for implementing classroom lectures. Elwood seems completely absorbed.
Below: Mr. Anders points out Biology specimen to group of interested sophomores.

Awaits The Boy Who Is Not Afraid Of Work

Mrs. Graham instructs a group of freshmen in the intricacies of modern poetry.

Classmate Jay Purifoy Killed

The most moving event of our senior year was the funeral service for classmate Jay Purifoy held in our gym. Seniors stand in line waiting to receive Holy Communion for their fallen friend.

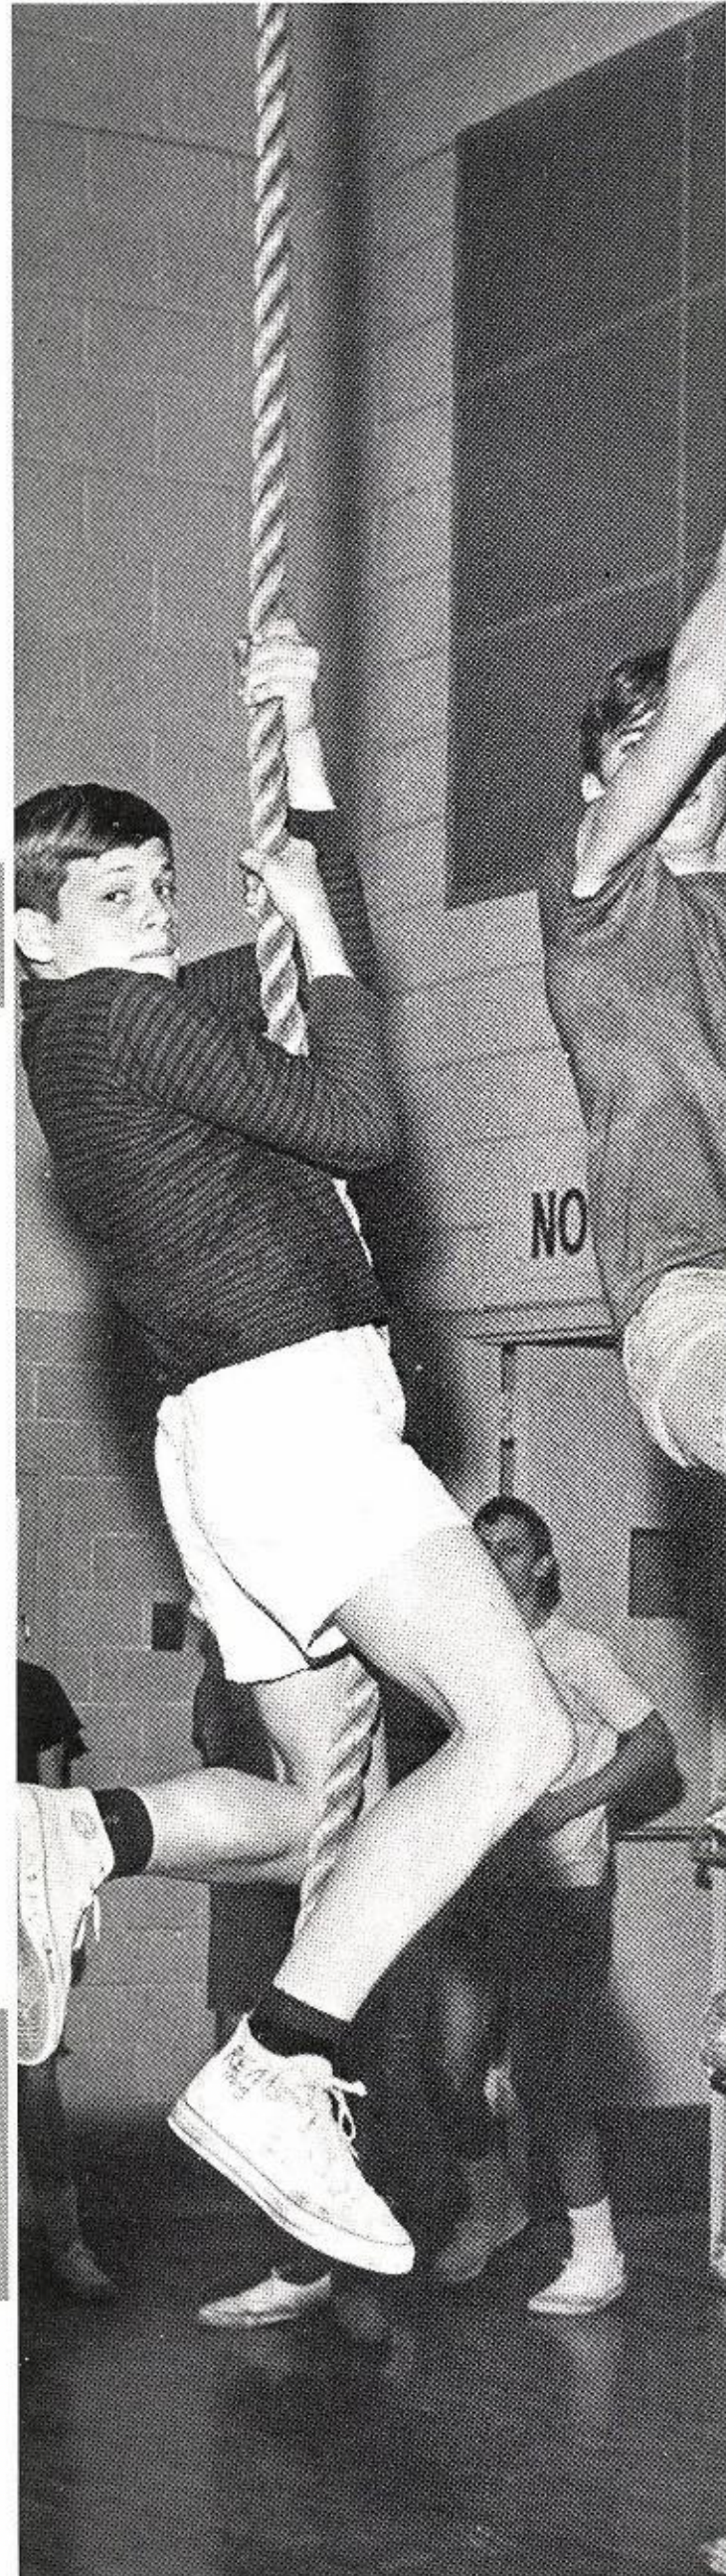

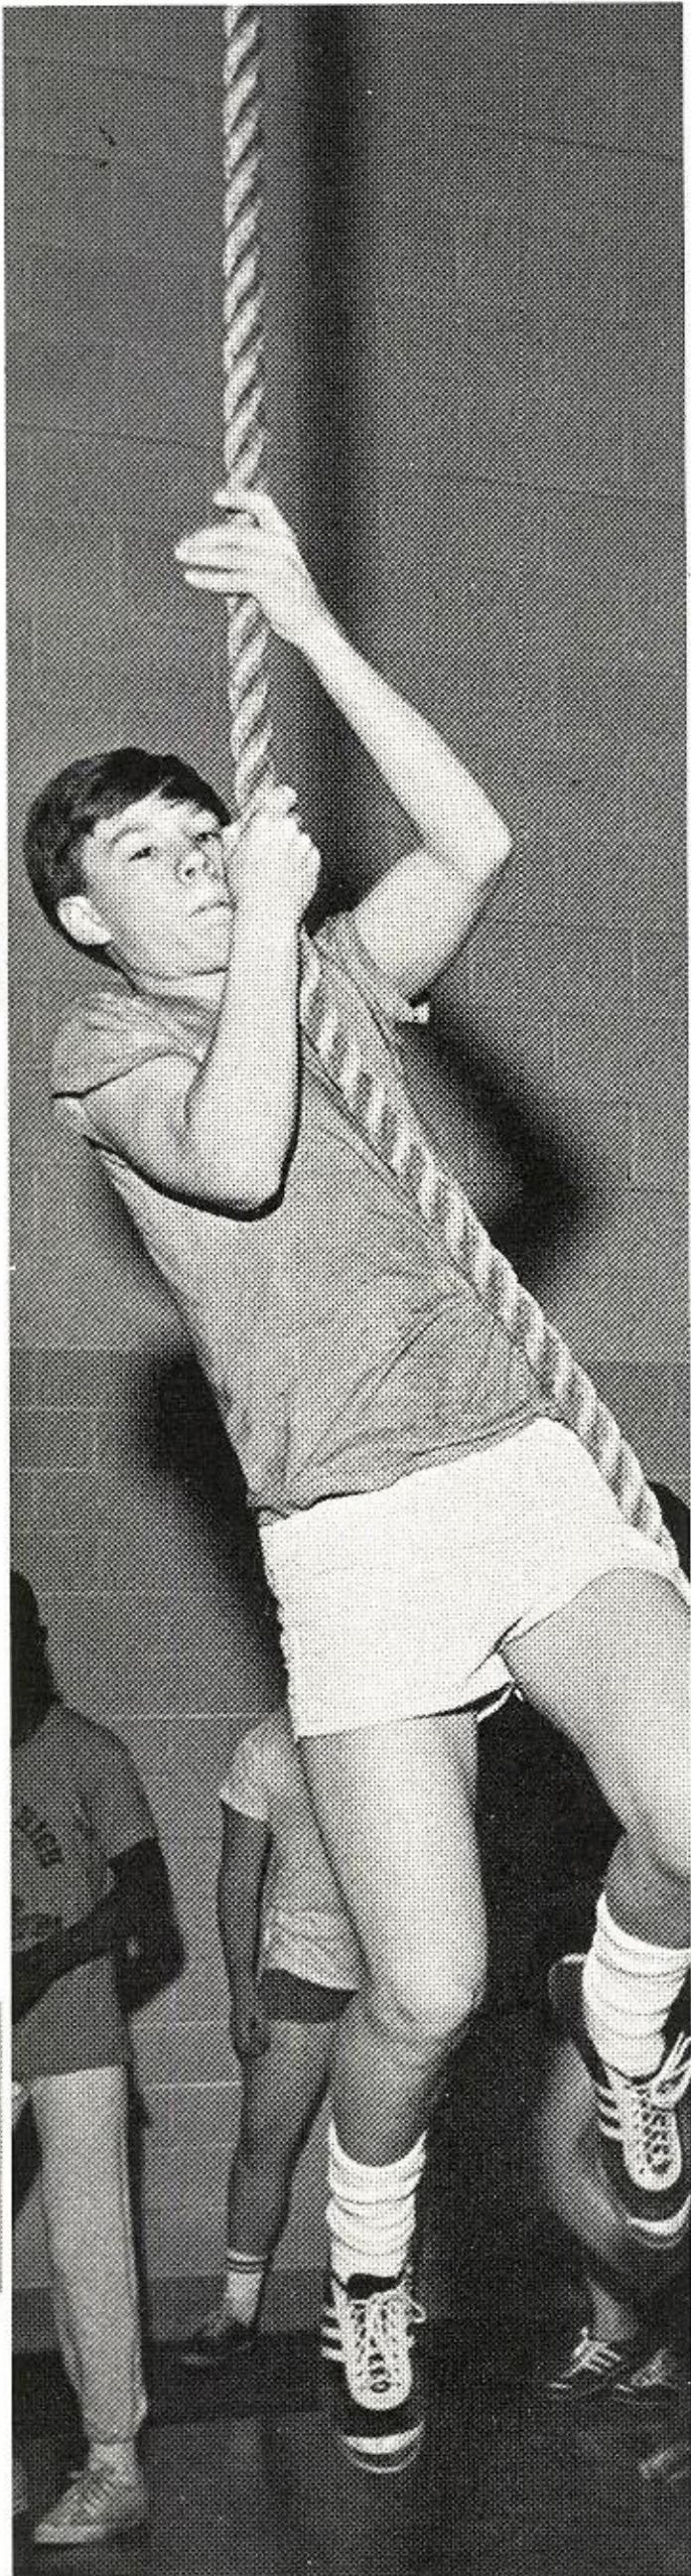

In Action In Vietnam —

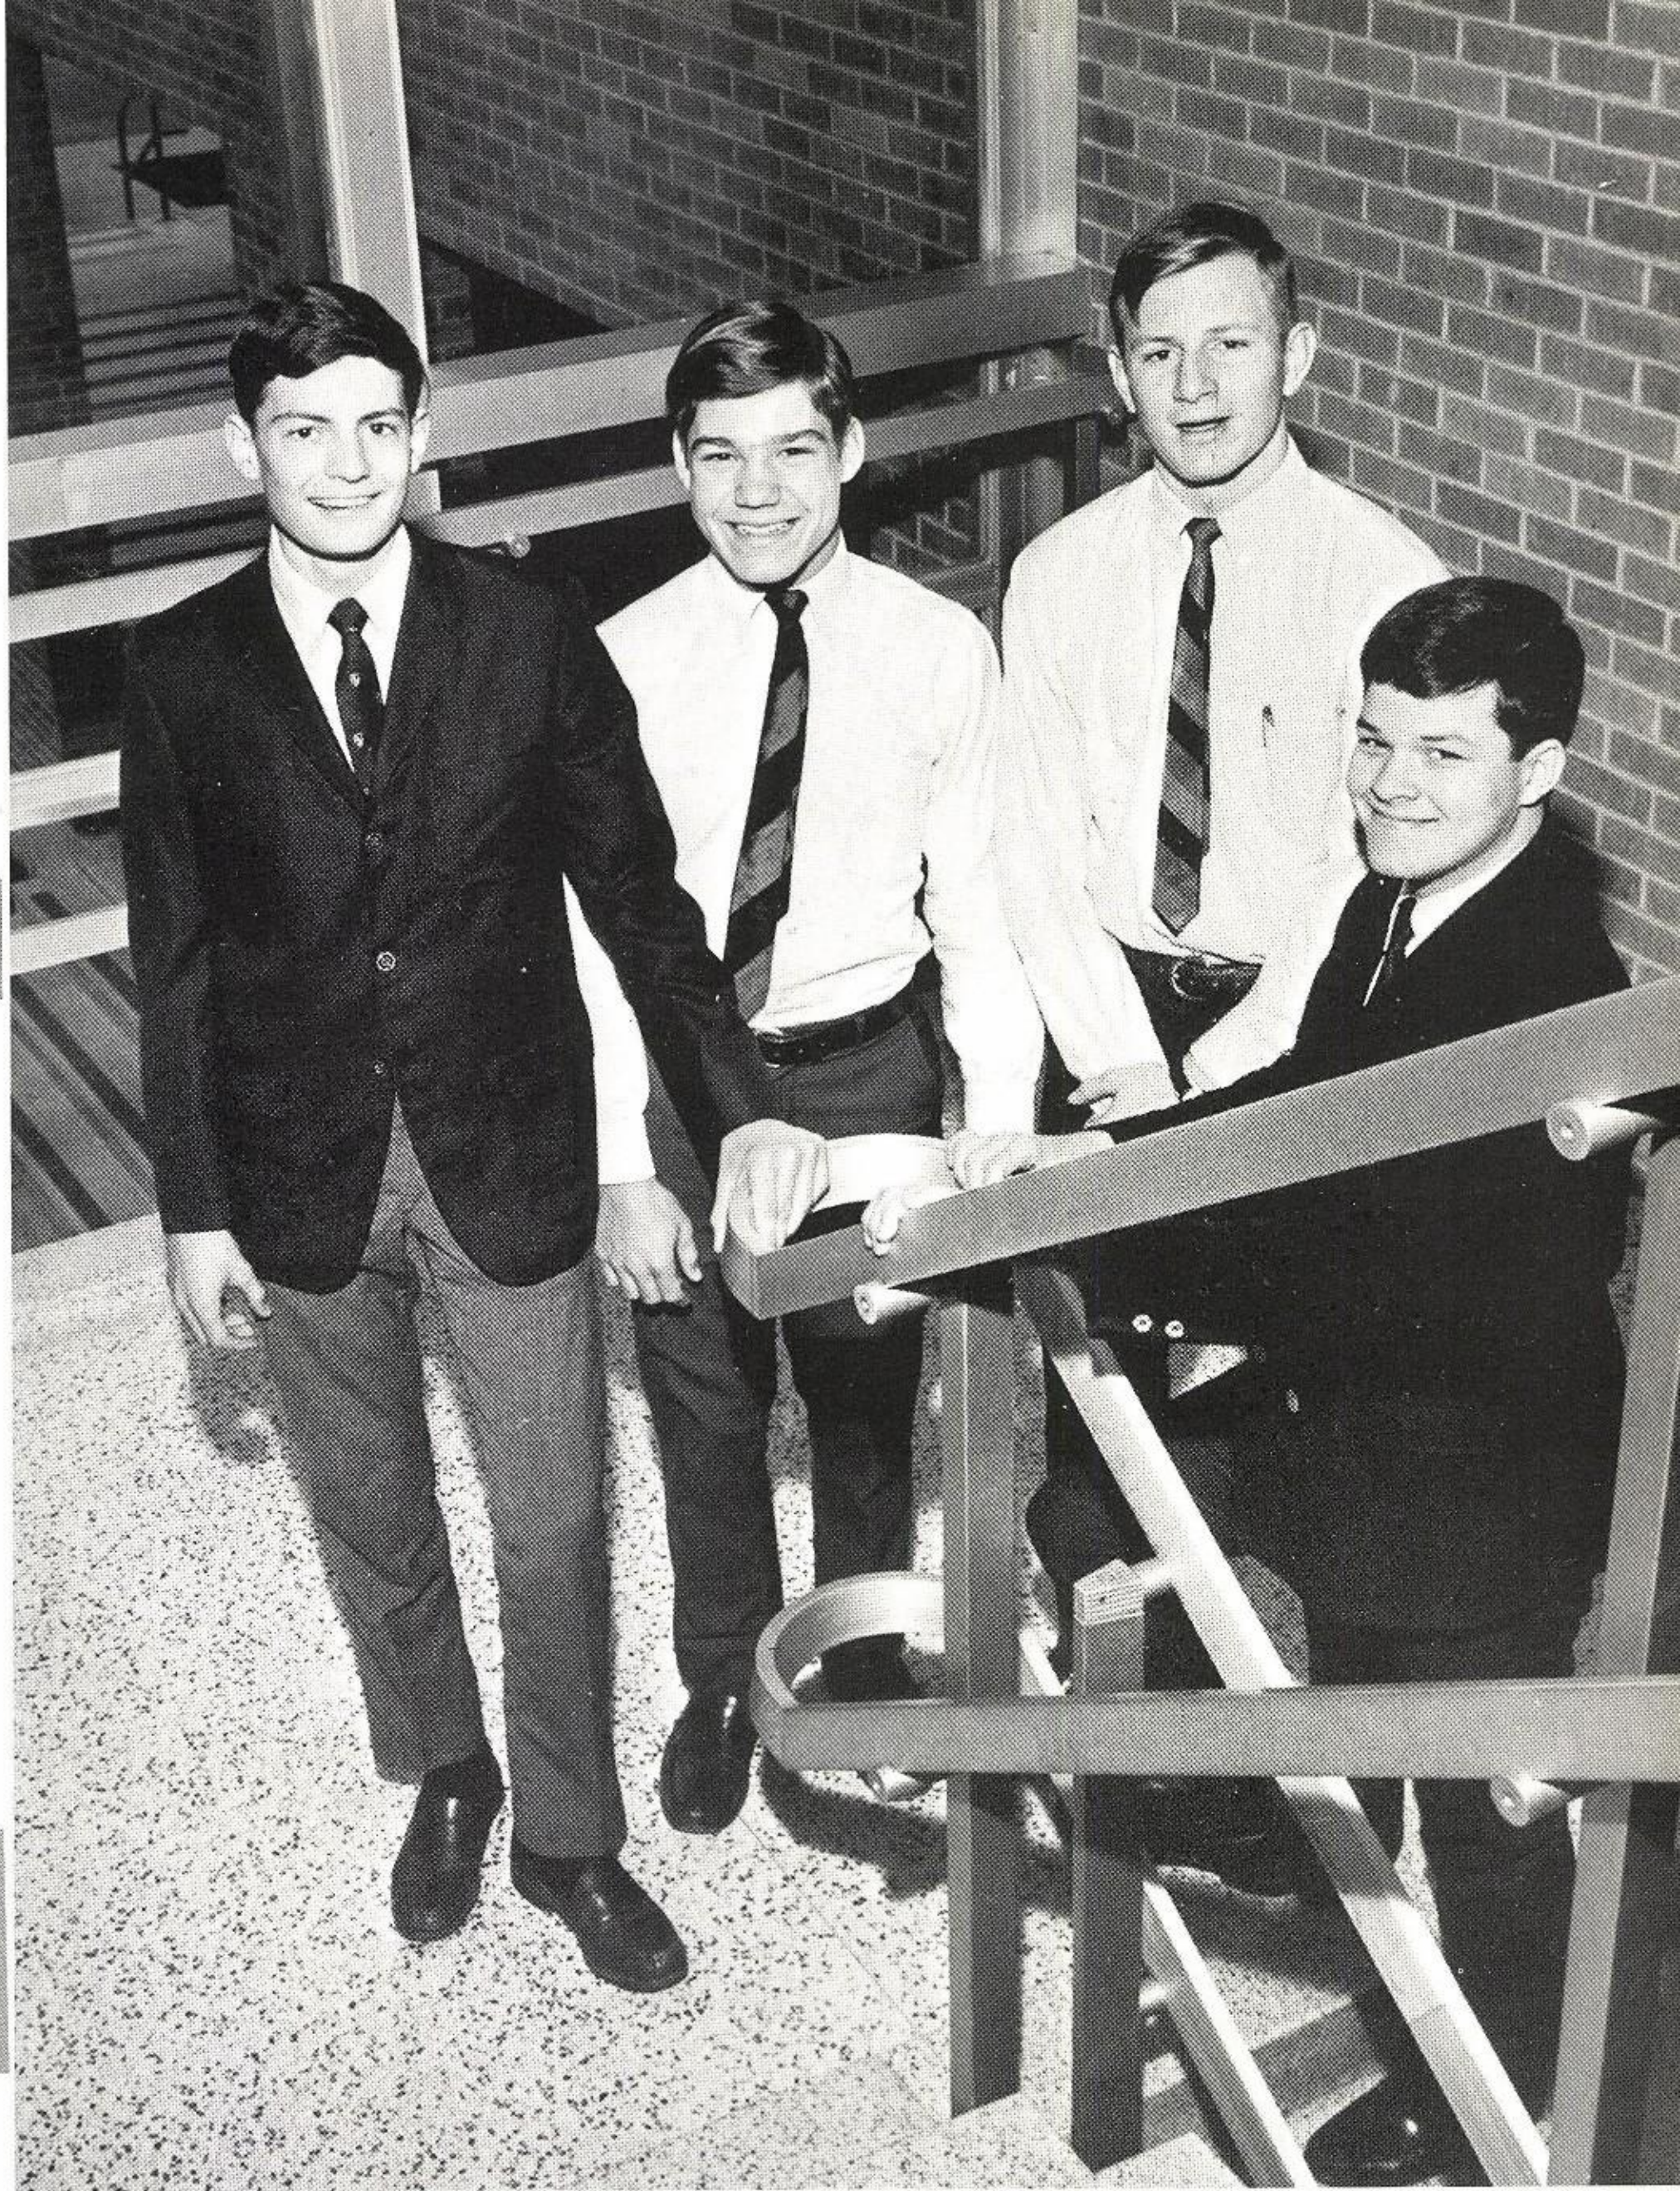

SERGEANT HUBERT J. PURIFOY
Born November 19, 1947
Killed In Action in Vietnam
January 8, 1967

The death of our classmate, Jay Purifoy, who left school to join the Army, was a tragedy that shocked all of us. We took consolation in the fact that, having died for a purpose, he set for us an example of the necessity of living for one. May he rest in peace!

Ralph Mooser is seen delivering his three minute plea for votes.

Some of the pastors who joined Msgr. Galvin for the speeches were Father Lange of St. Jude's, Msgr. Allen of Holy Souls, Father Reynolds of St. Anne's and Msgr. Hinckley of St. Patrick's.

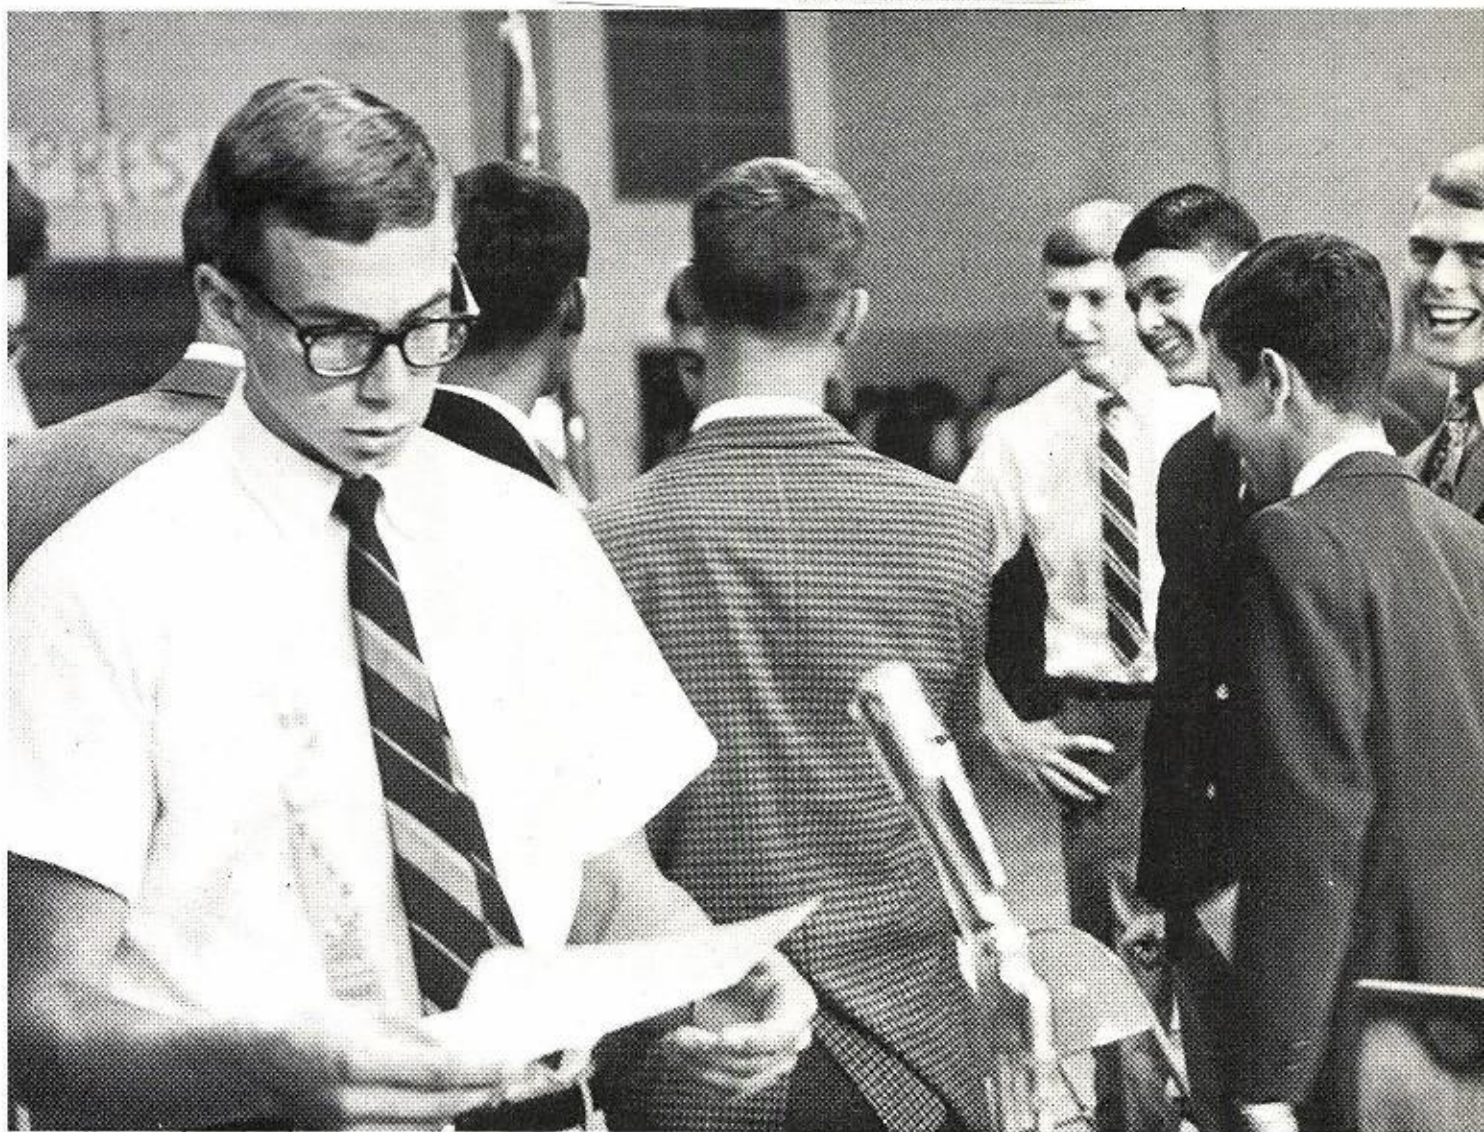

This is a priceless photo. It is the only one that Ralph-Ralph failed to get in. Next day the photographer was found beaten in an alley smelling of English Leather! Said Ralph: "Circumstantial evidence"

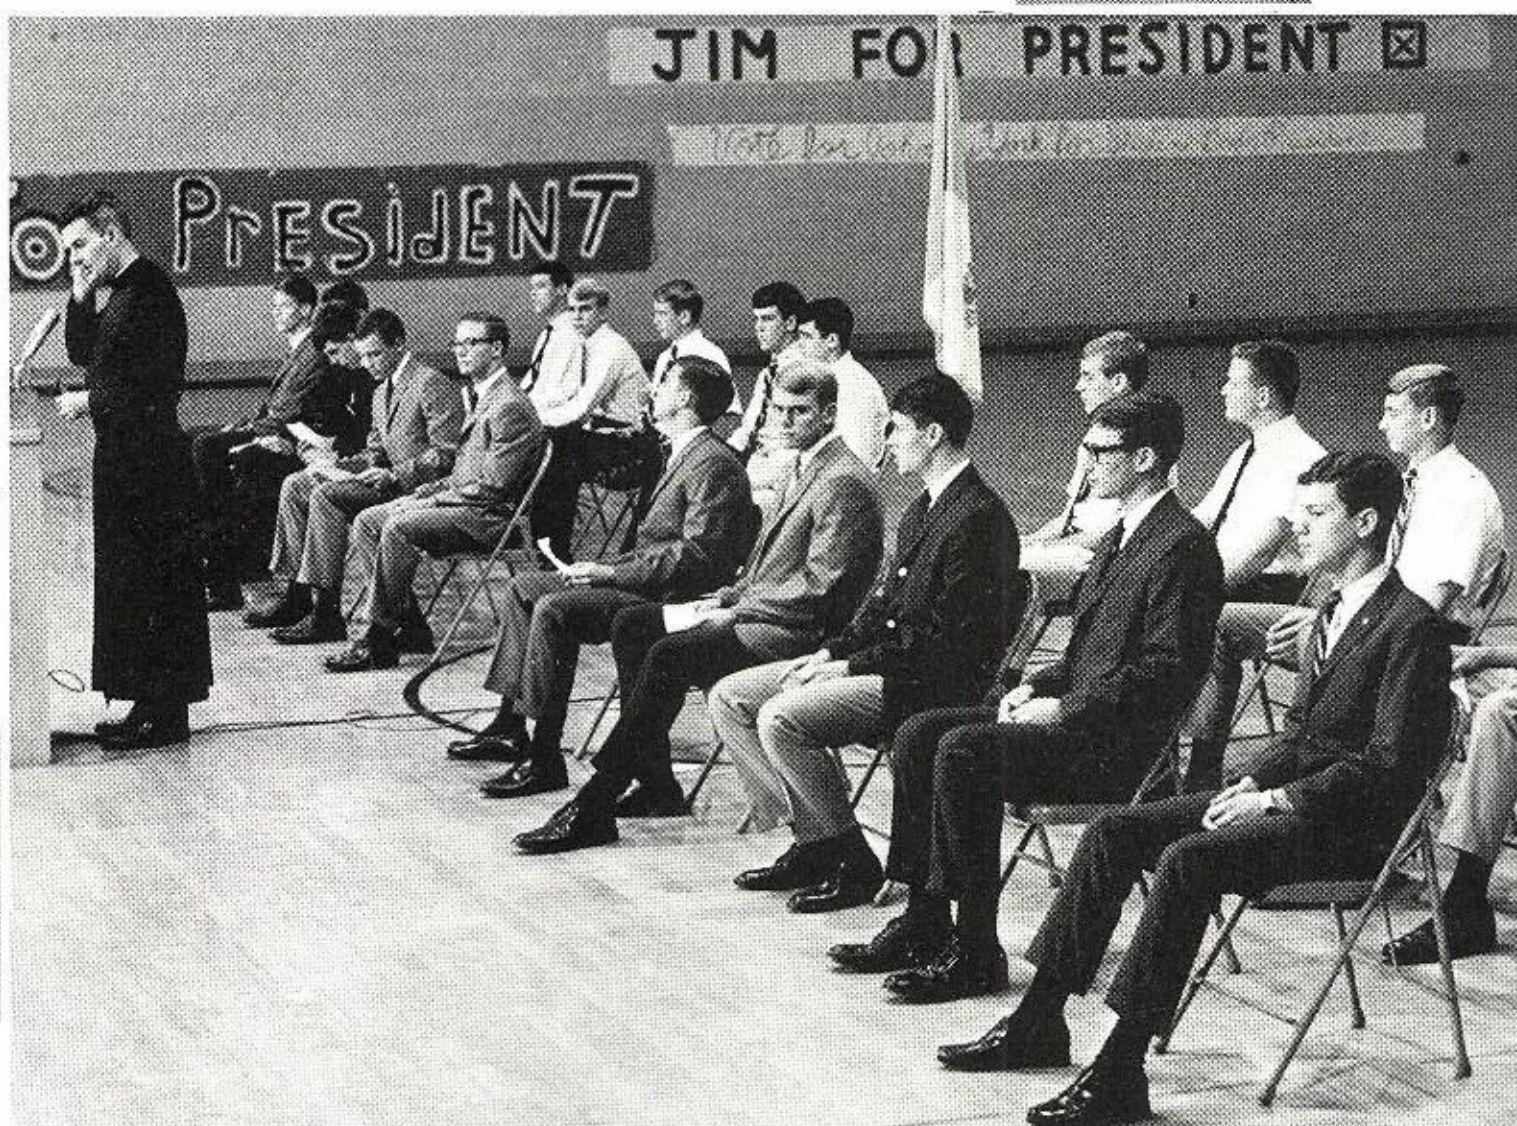

Campaign For Presidency . . . Elected

... had a coed school he would
... have won!

Rossi nervously checks his speech as the voters file in. Ralph checks the camera and announces he has few cavities. Other candidates pretend to each other they aren't nervous.

While Fr. Tribou addresses student body all candidates look straight ahead . . . well, almost all! Mooser glares at the cameraman for leaving him out of that other picture.

Haaser deserts football for basketball . . . and trips the light fantastic.
Linsky, limited to a stilted soft-shoe routine, looks on with wild jealous rage.

Jacuzzi (without his pump) awaits conflict with Ogden.

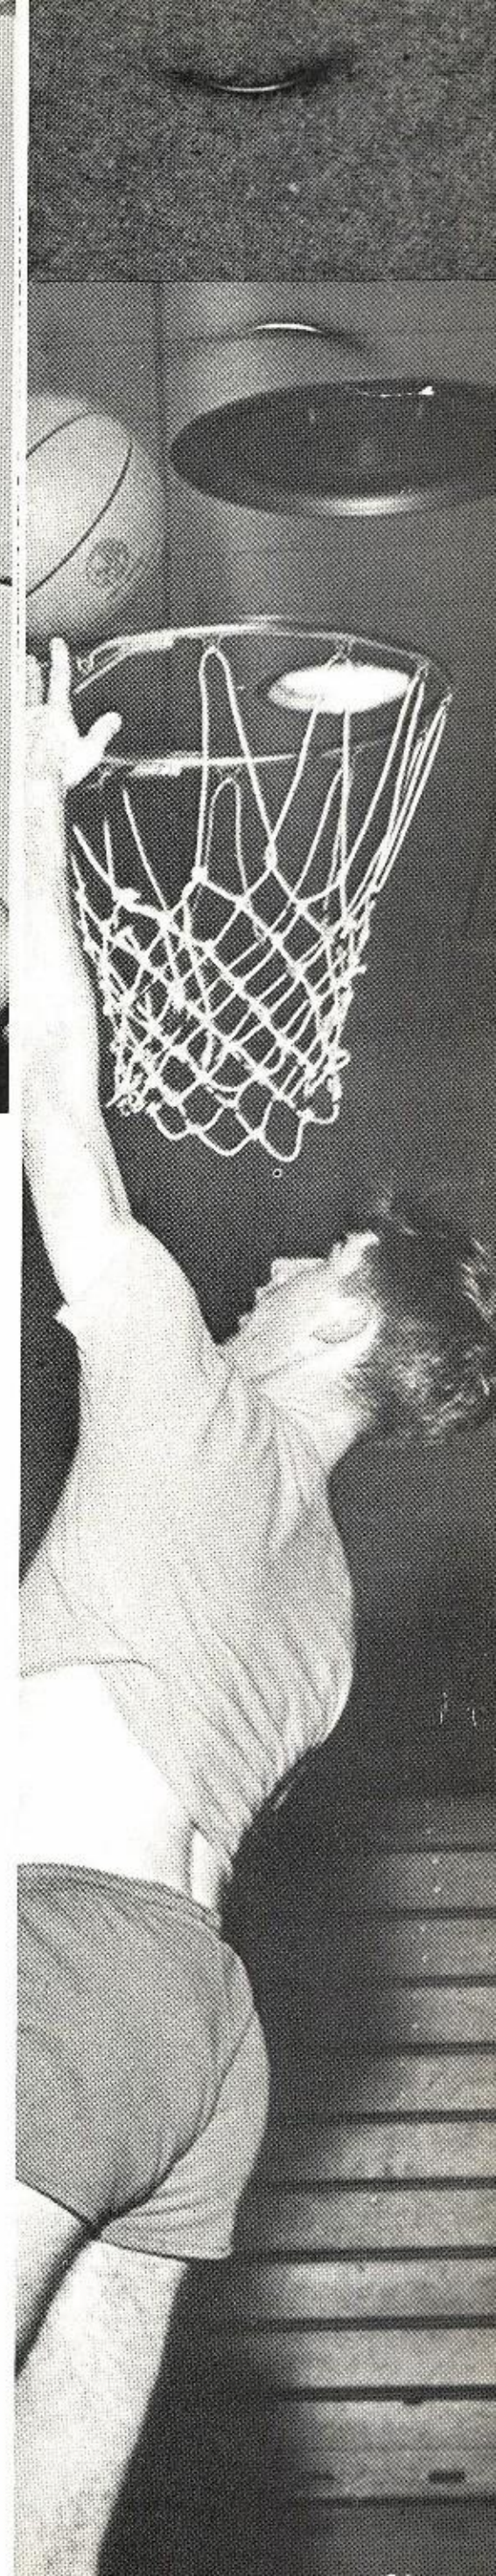

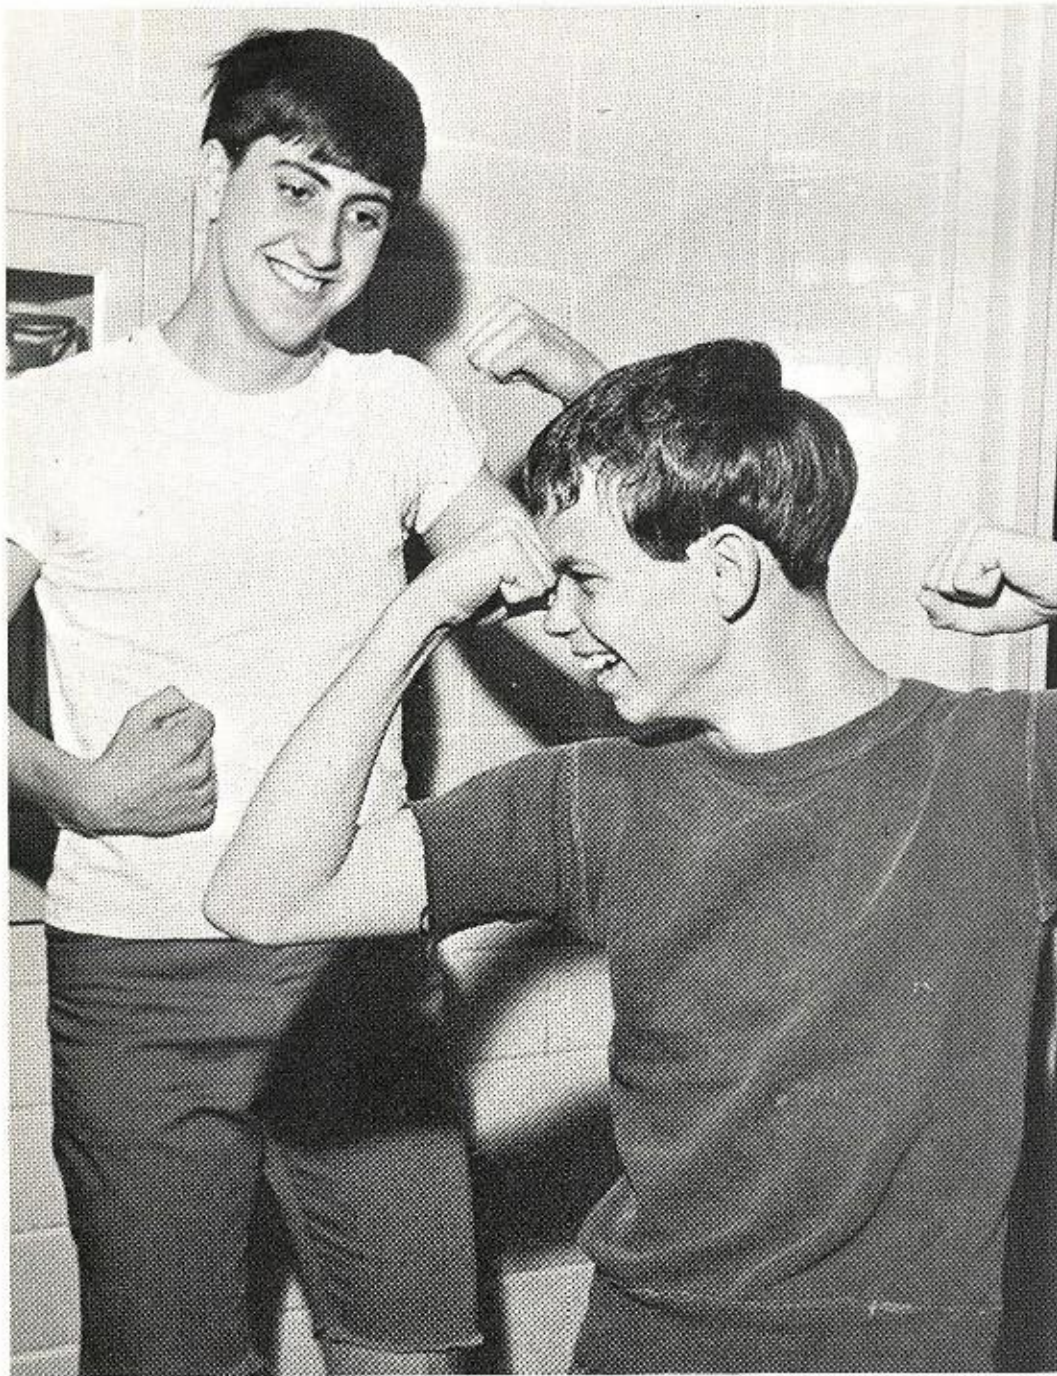

Elwoods slips away from PE class into equipment room to dream of the glorious gridiron year ahead (not including summer camp) sight to terrify even the most stouthearted! The mighty sophomores of Catholic High. Note amazing and indefinable expressions on faces of Hanns, Pitts, Filipek, Roehrenbeck, and Ritchie looks like an ad for the wrestling matches.

Mercifully unidentifiable, these tenth graders illustrate typical sophomore athletic form.

Toland sinks them in PE as well as he does in varsity games.

Mike Smith gets pretty darn serious about the whole business.

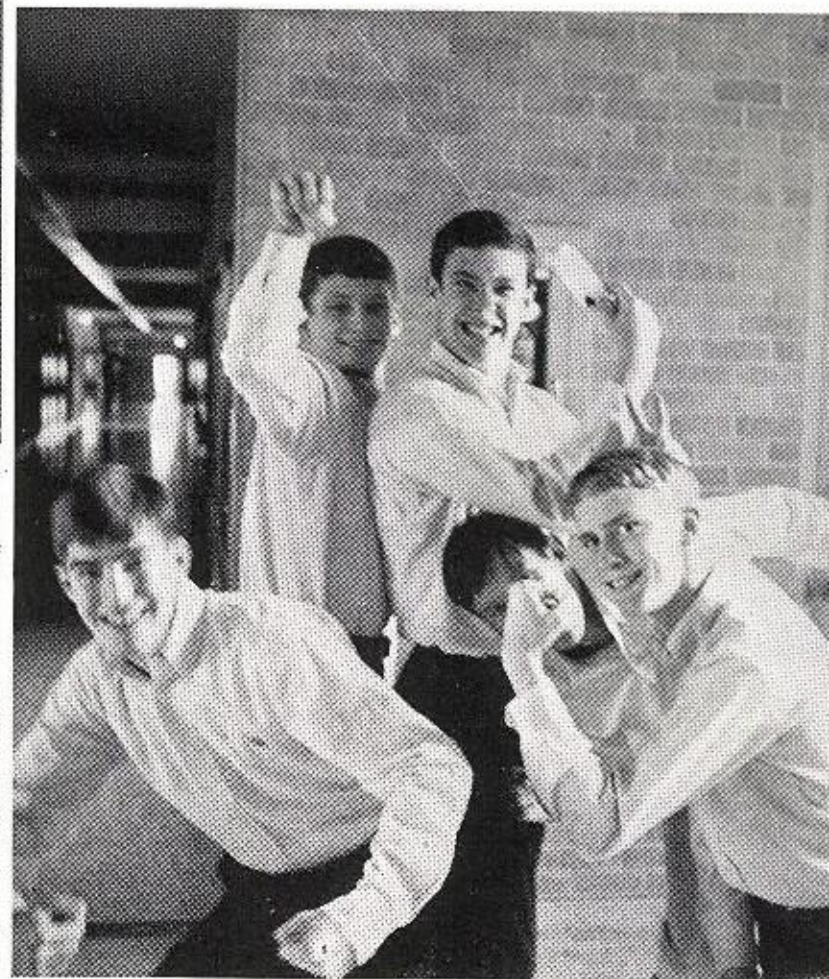

Can this be a ballet session? Or is Superman about to dart in-to the skies! Holy Heights . . . it's Robin!

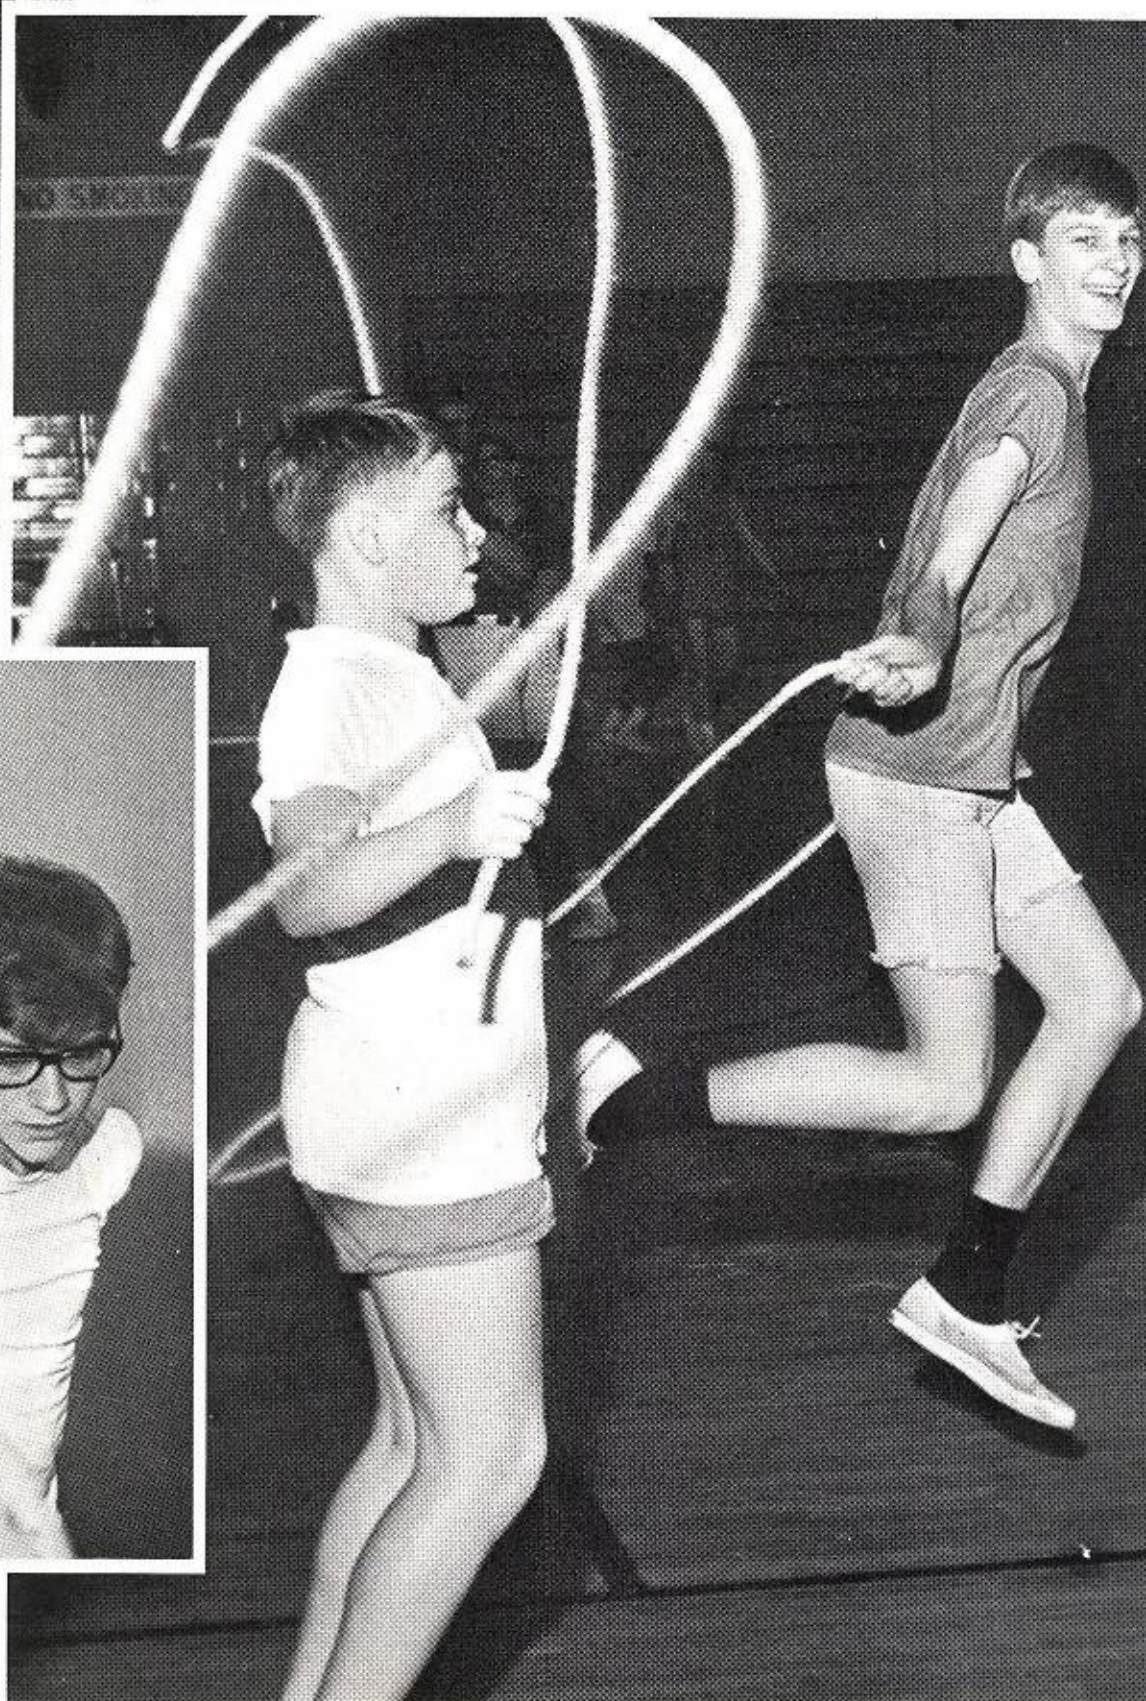

Charlie Maynard explains how to lift weights to Joel Vaughn while Mike Smith, the old expert, smirks.

How did these idiots get in here? Maybe they are carrying their weight program activities right into the lobby!

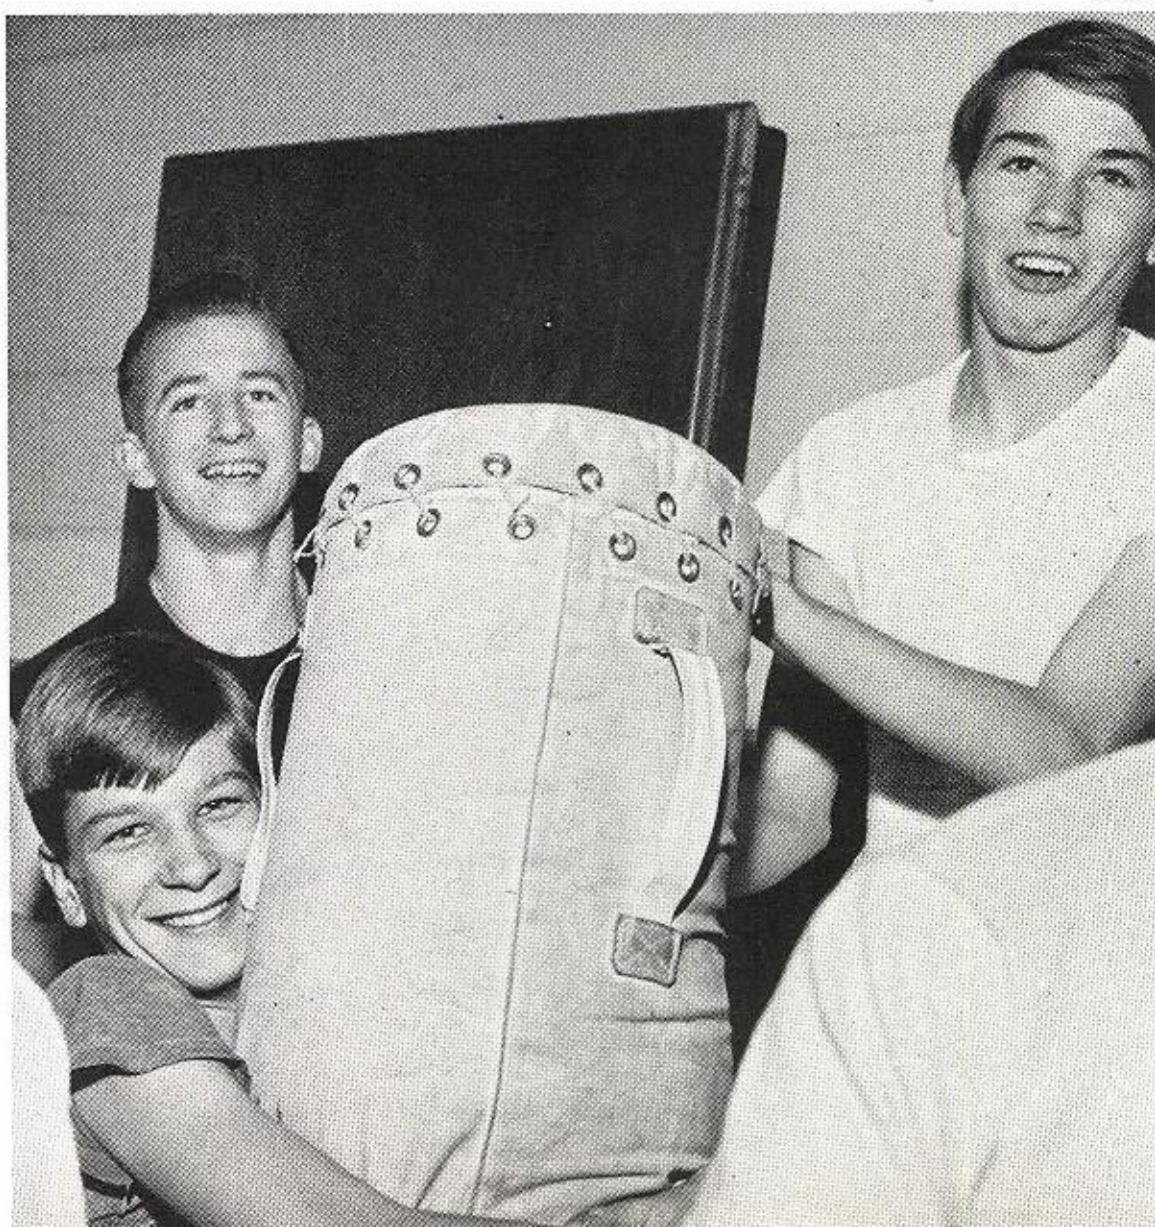

Callahan strengthens leg muscles as other eager athletes wait their turns.

Lachowski seems to be in a state of despair about his inability to make his muscles get any bigger.

One nice thing about freshmen . . . they never pose for the camera . . . just go on working in their natural way. Is that headless Teddy bear or a dummy?

"DOG"

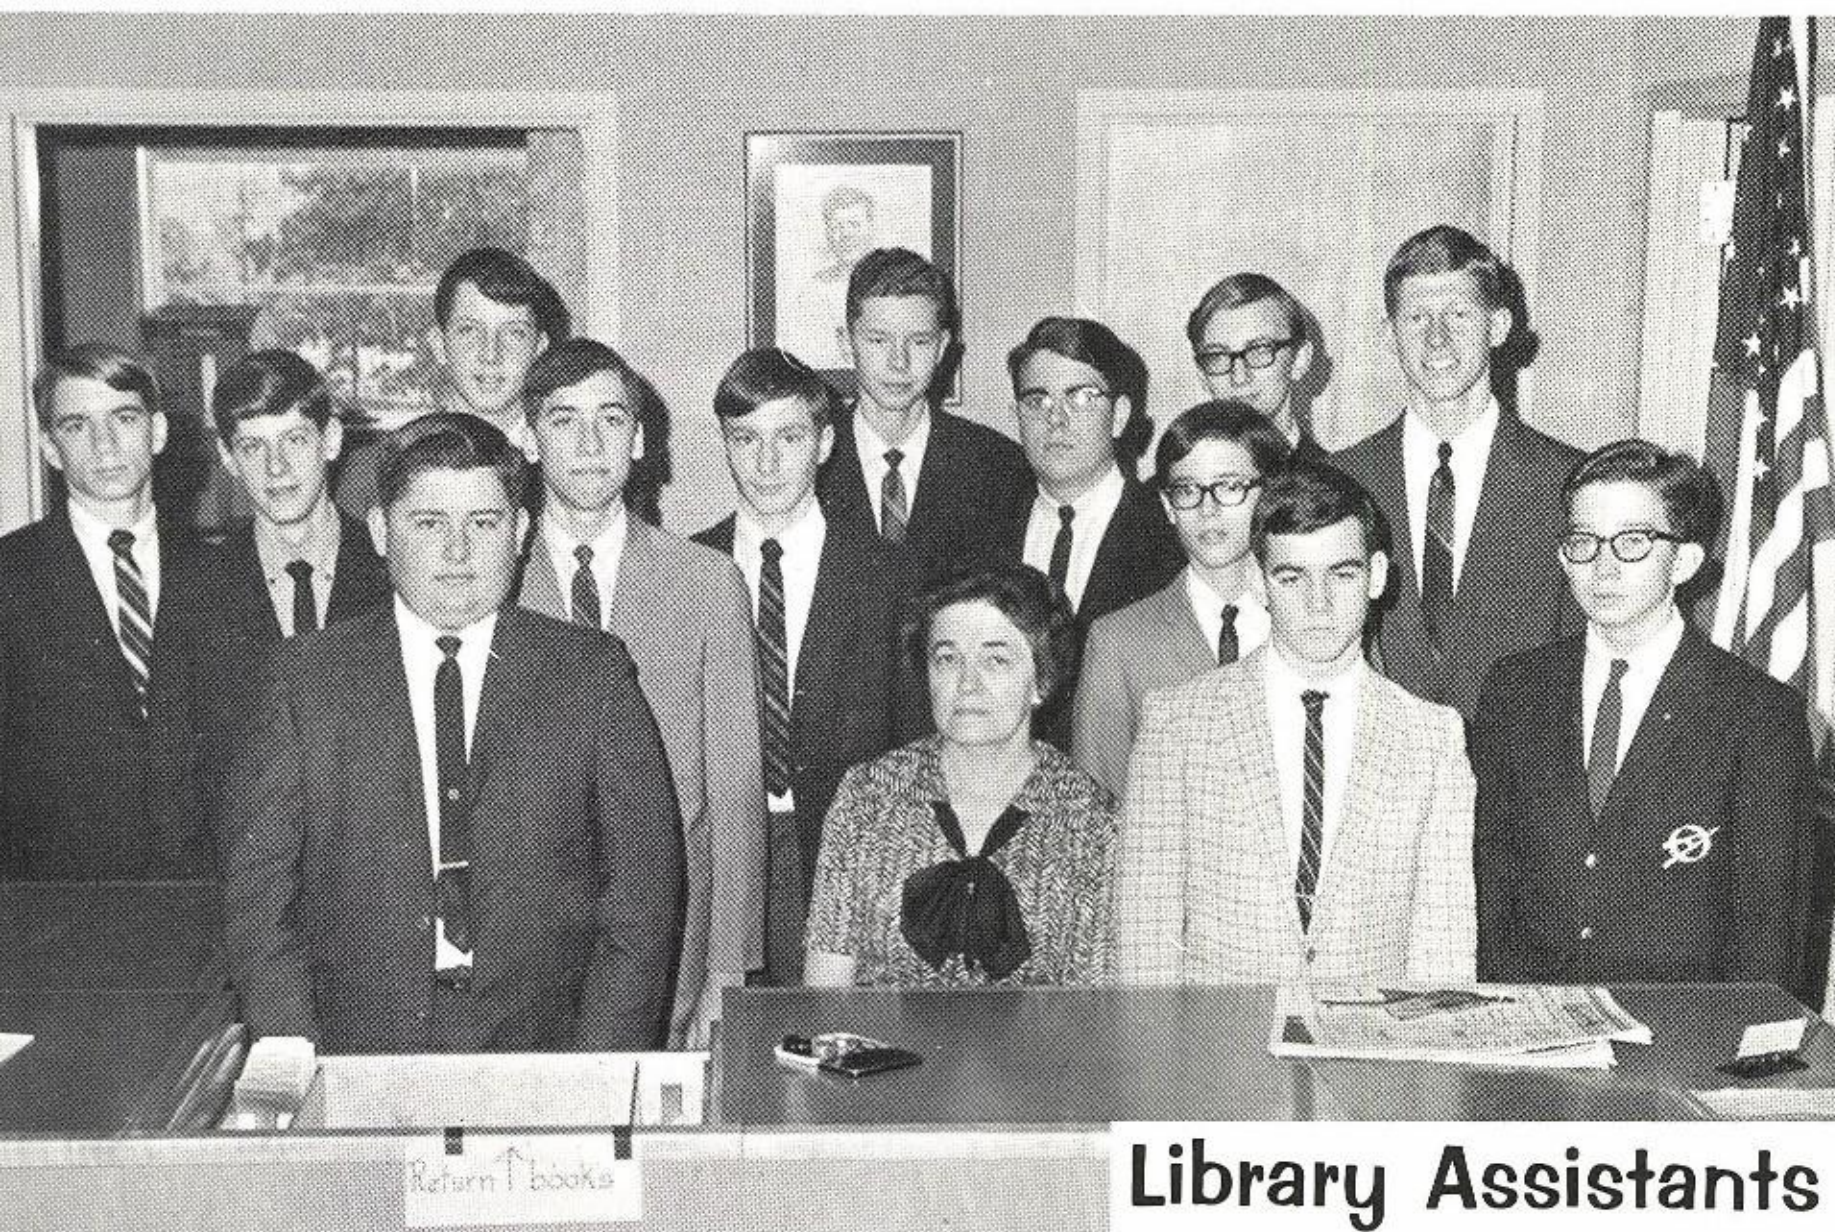

Letters—Editor

With his wonderful canine wisdom, "DOG" answered many letters from students asking for solutions to their problems.

Fine Arts Club

Library Assistants

First Friday of October — Ring Day

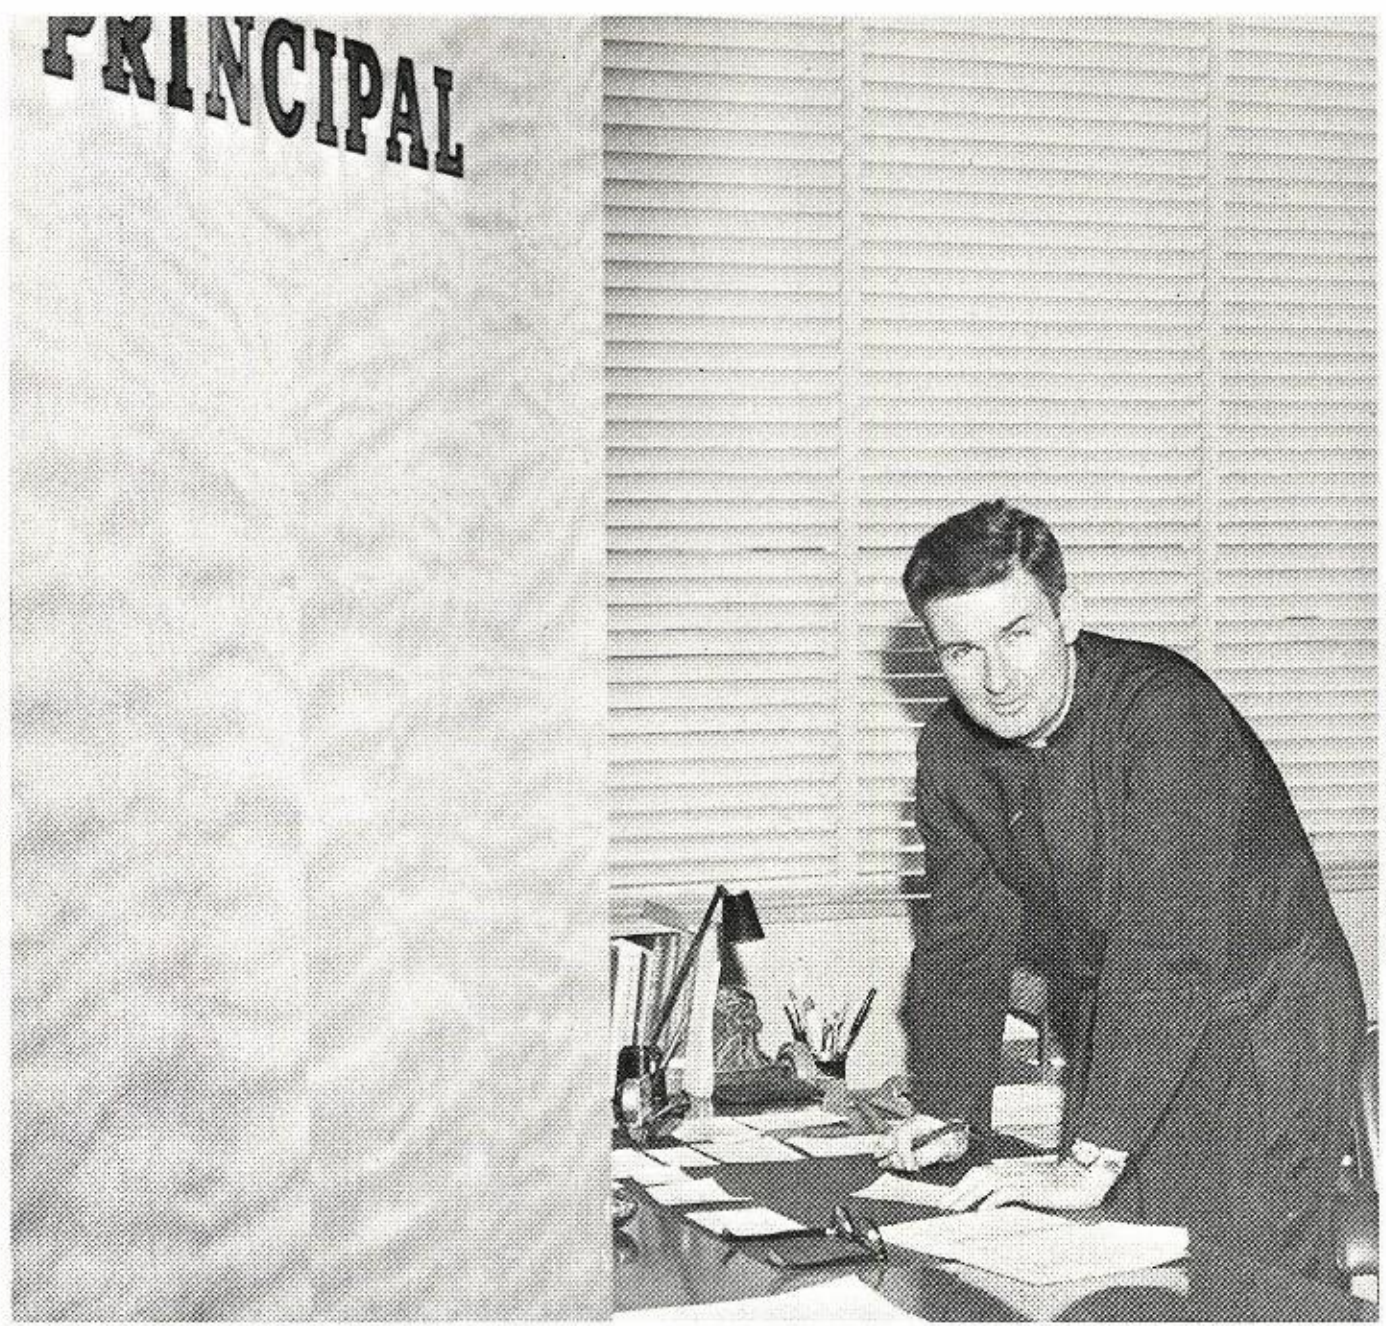

Seniors approach the table in front of the altar to pick up their just-blessed rings on the traditional date, the First Friday of October.

Mooser and Kruelen, sign painters deluxe, work on their latest creation to help boost school spirit.

The happy faces indicate this bus is leaving school and not just

Says Fr. Tribou: "That's right, son, now you look fine; you're wearing your hair like your father instead of your mother. If you need some more Butch Wax just let me know."

arriving.

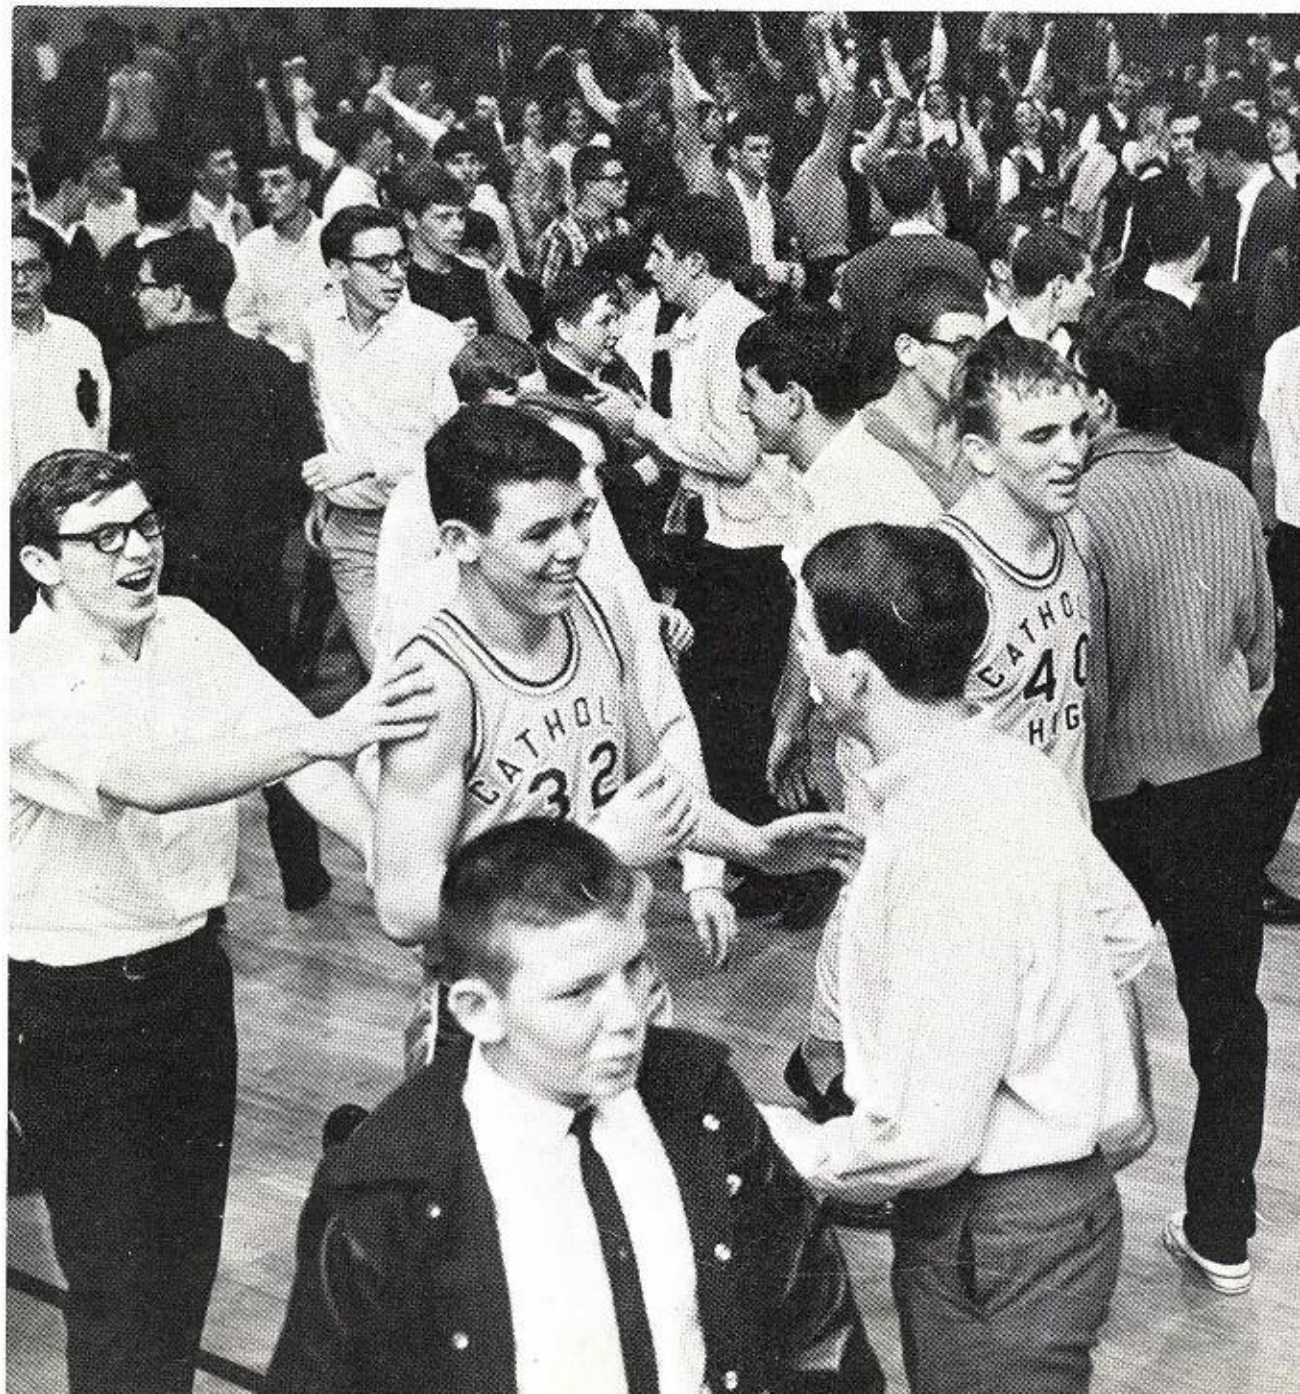

The Candy Machine is always a great crowd drawer.

A Night To Remember As Rockets

What a night! Holmes, usually a bundle of emotions, is so stunned he has his mouth closed. Just one more phenomena of an unusual night.

Searcy's Thirteen Games

Winning Streak With 66-64 Victory

Roling, Toland and Cass reflect the joy of the victorious Rockets.

Left: students run across gym floor (ye gods!) after the game. The victory just went to their feet as well as their heads and they threw caution to the winds.

Assembly time . . . and the same old problem: getting the boys to move fast enough into the stands. No easy chore . . . especially when there is a photographer to pose for!

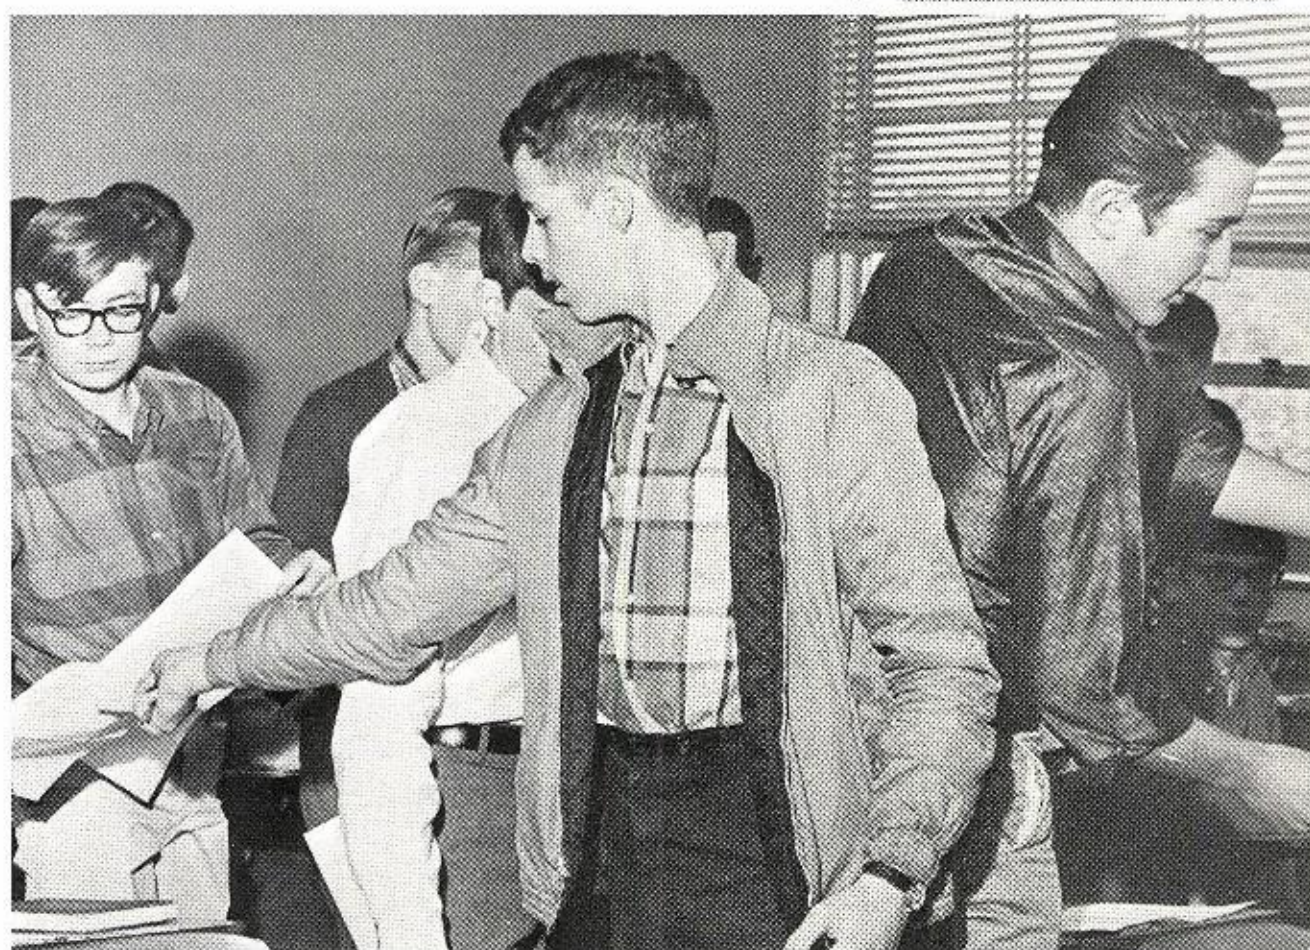

The three also-rans in the Homecoming Queen election. Can you recognize Gasper, Hoffman and Hart?

RIGHT: Fr. Rossi directs choir for student body Mass.

Above: Communion time during the weekly High Mass celebrated by Fr. Rossi every Friday morning.

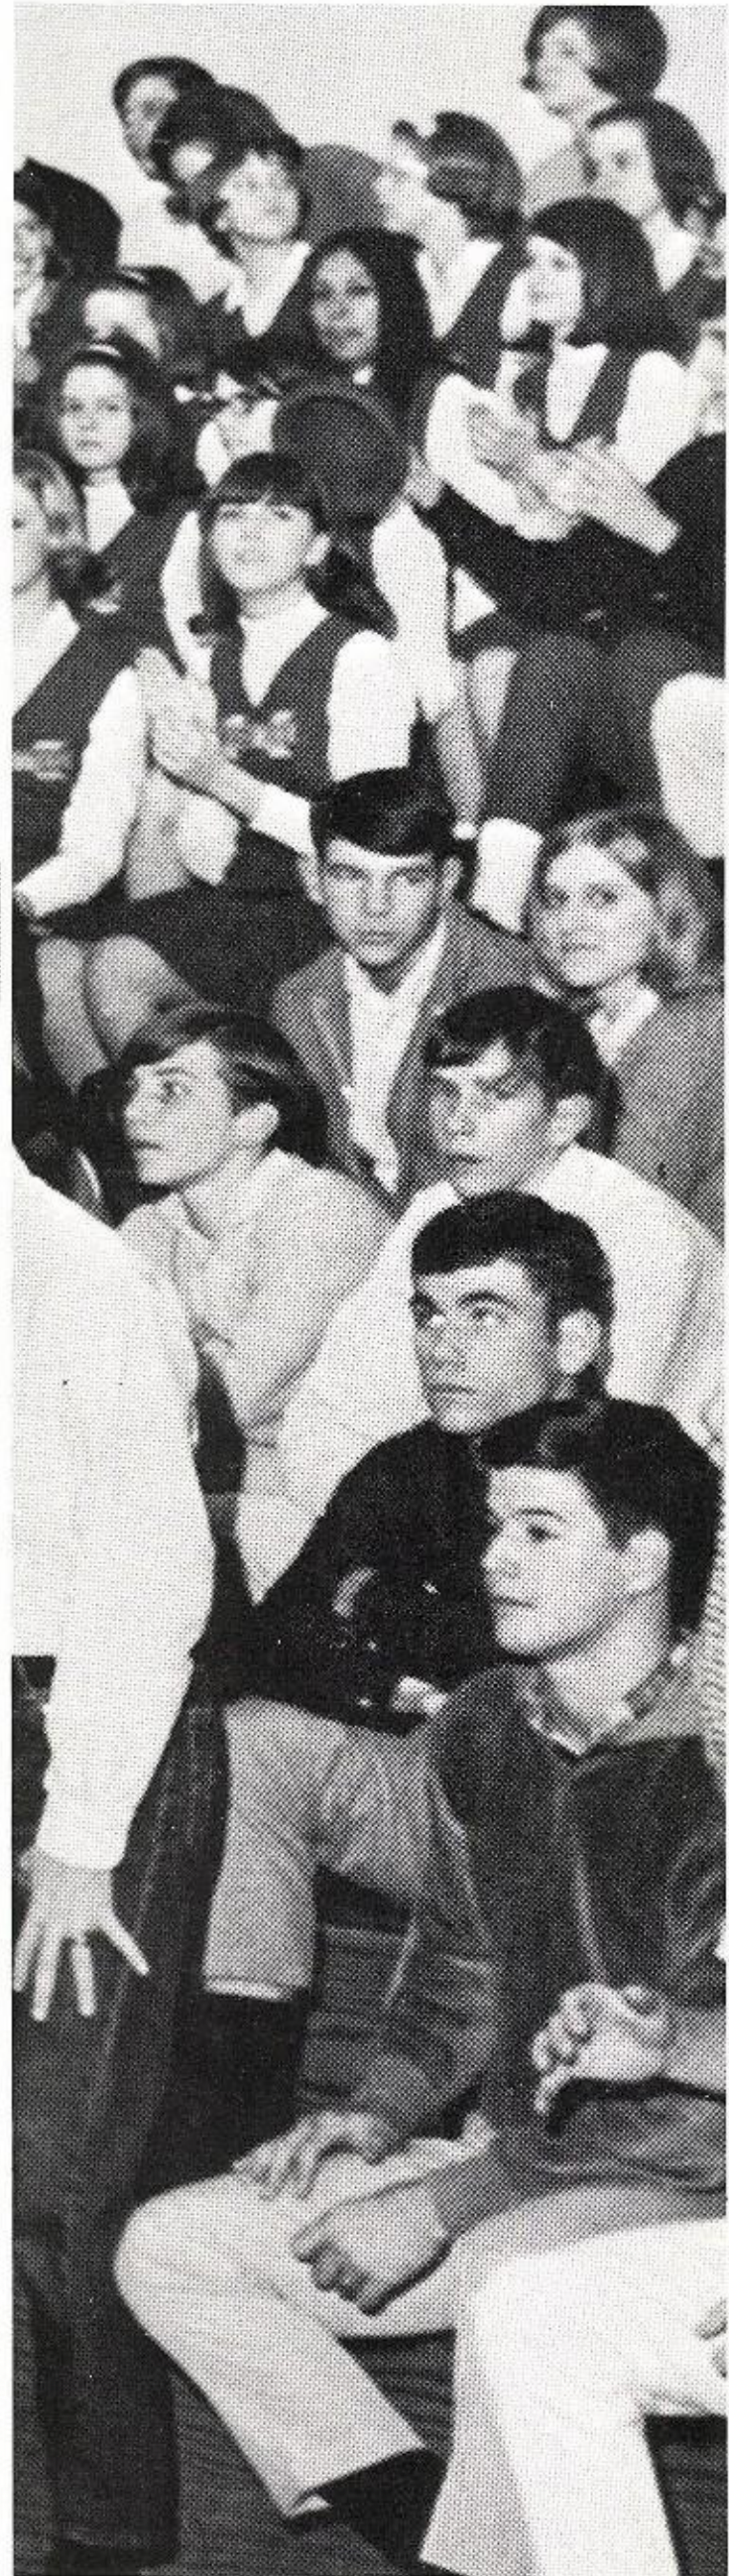

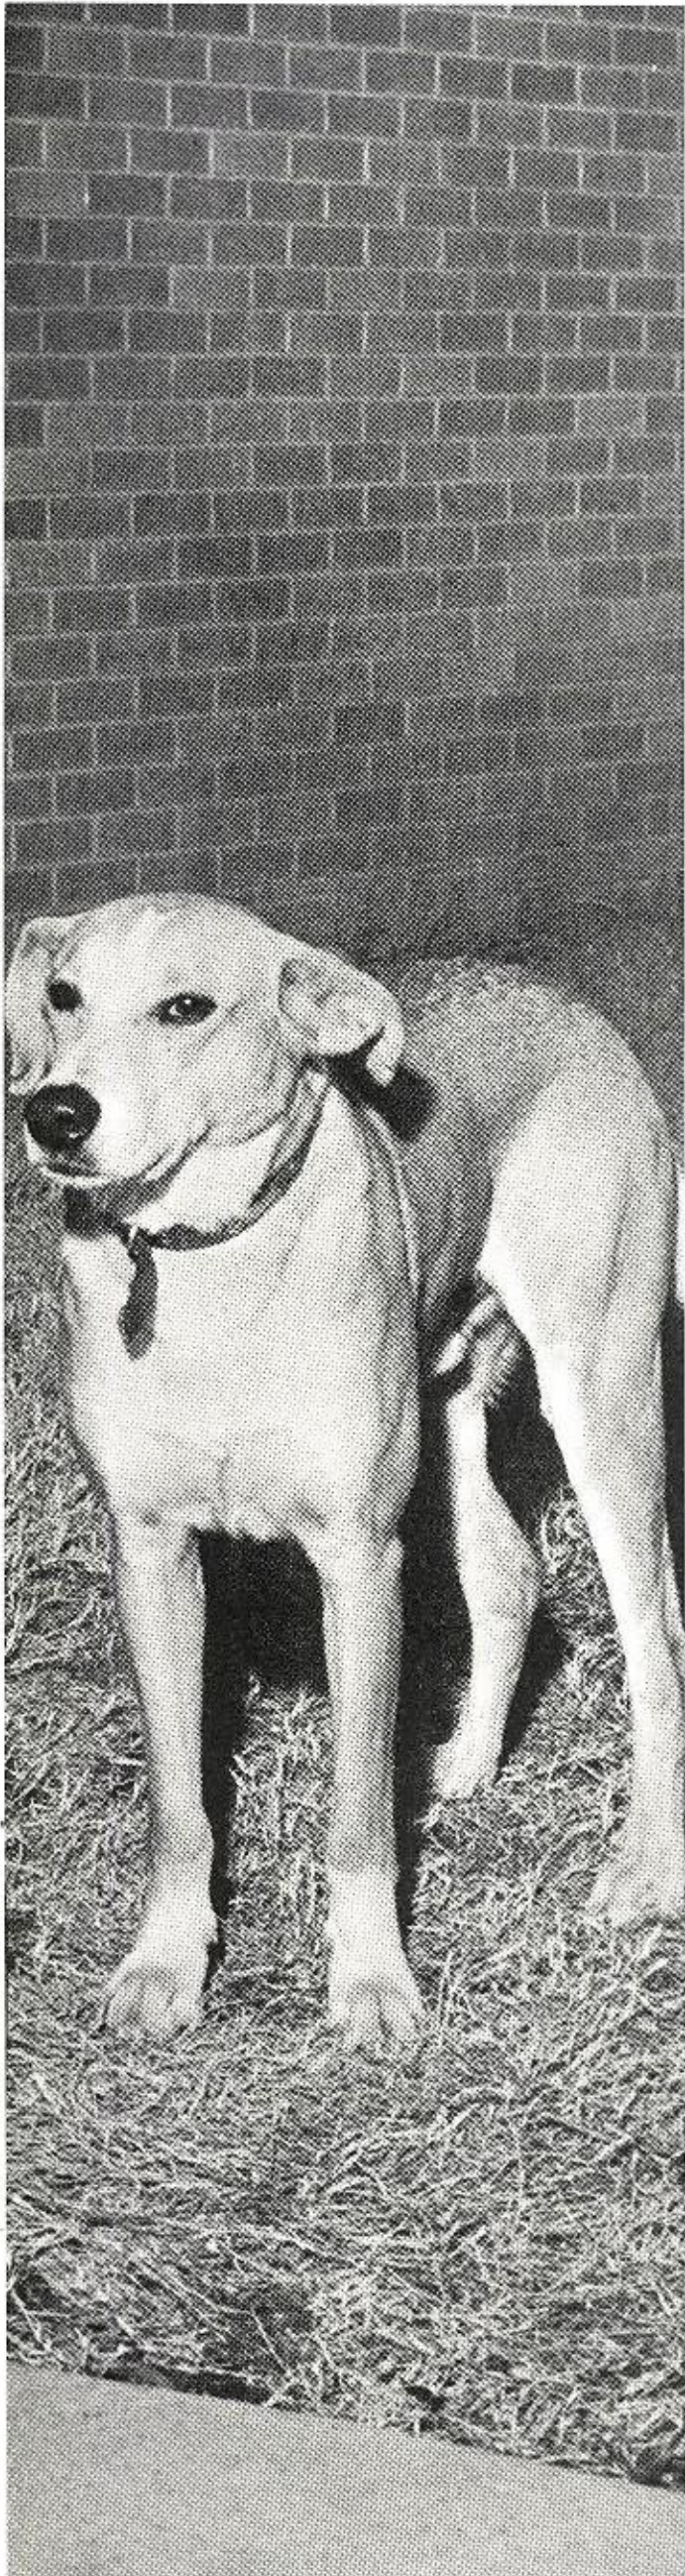

Right: Bewildered freshmen struggle thru an exchange of papers. Even such mental exertion as this is enough to wear them down.

In NORTH LITTLE ROCK

Arkansas' Only Lighted Golf Course

Golf Pro Bill Zimmerebner hits the first ball off the tee at the opening of the state's first lighted golf course—Burns Park in North Little Rock. Just one more example of how that city lives up to its motto, "Pledged to Progress."
